Selectmen Looking At Setting Lower Homeowner Tax Rate

By Sue Aucella Deacon

For the first time since 100 percent revaluation was completed in Andover, the selectmen are thinking about setting a lower tax rate for residential property-owners — and letting business, commercial and industrial taxpayers bear a heavier share of the tax burden.

If the board decides to maintain a single tax rate for all property-owners — as it has for the past three years — that rate will probably be $17.80, down from the current $20.50. (That $17.80 is an unofficial rate that has not yet been submitted to the state for approval.)

Finance and Budget Director Anthony Torrisi attributes that drop in the tax rate to a "rather dramatic increase" in the total valuation of the town, up from last year's $1,048,975,210, to a current $1,344,794,449. A boom in new construction plus an updating of all property values in town add up to the higher total valuation, Torrisi explains.

The selectmen will hold a special meeting at 7:30 next Monday night at the town offices on Bartlet Street to make a decision on the new tax rate (or rates). The board this week indicated that they hope both homeowners and local industries will be well-represented at that meeting to make their opinions known.

Under the state's 100 percent revaluation law, cities and towns may tax commercial, industrial and personal property at a higher rate than residential land and open space: that option is called classification.

In past years, the selectmen have voted against classification, instead electing to keep a single tax rate. Last year, the board voted against classification with almost no discussion, explaining that they did not want to hurt business and industry in Andover.

But this year, the board has declared itself "somewhat open" to the idea of classification. "It could go either way," Chairman Donn Byrne said during a discussion Monday night. "The possibilities this year are much more interesting."

Selectman William Dalton moved to table the discussion, and a final decision, until next week. Few taxpayers were present to offer their opinions Monday, and Dalton said he wanted to hear from more of them before voting on classification.

If the selectmen opt for a lower rate for residential taxpayers, homeowners could conceivably pay a rate as low as $13.96 (a 22 percent decrease), while business and industrial would make up the difference by paying at the rate of $26.70 (a 150 percent increase.) It appears unlikely, however, that the board will choose that option.

According to information prepared by the assessors, the selectmen have a whole range of options to choose from, ranging from no shift in the tax rate (which would leave the rate at $17.80 for everyone), to a five-percent shifting of the burden over to business and industry (which would bring the residential rate down slightly to $17.60, and the industrial rate up to $18.26).

After voting against classification in past years, Selectman Norma Gammon said, "My feelings have changed. People are talking to me, and they'd like some help with the tax rate." Gammon said she favored a shift that would "not harm commercial properties, but help residents."

With a 20 percent shift, for instance, the residential rate would drop to $17.03, and the business/commercial/industrial rate would increase to $19.58 — still less than the current $20.50 tax rate. Gammon said such a shift would be "a start" towards helping homeowners.

Why the change in the selectmen's thoughts on classification, to which they were, in the words of Chairman Byrne, "categorically opposed" a year ago?

After Monday night's meeting, Byrne explained that in previous years, classification would have taken only $1 or $2 dollars off the residential tax rate. This year, however, classification could bring the residential rate down by as much as $6.50, saving homeowners $600 to $700 on their tax bills.

The chairman said that in his opinion, "If we're going to have a tax break, it should go to the homeowner." The rate is going to go down in any case, he added; it is just a question of how much it will go down for residential taxpayers.

Byrne noted that the board has never before had information as detailed as that prepared by the assessors this year. According to that information, the average home in Andover is valued at $113,-

$2 Million State Grant Will Help Finance Riverina Road Station

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A state matching grant of at least $2 million — and possibly up to $3.5 million — will help Andover pay for its new $6.7 million Riverina Road sewage pumping station, which has been called Andover's most pressing need.

State Representative Sue Tucker told the TOWNSMAN Monday that under Chapter 557, the state has agreed to allocate a matching grant to cover 50 percent of the cost of building a pumping station. That grant will help ease the burden on Andover taxpayers, since annual town meeting appropriated $6.7 million to pay for the entire project in April (Article 21).

Tucker explained that the project includes two parts, each with a pricetag of approximately $3.2 to $3.4 million: the pumping station, and a new force main and interceptor connecting the station to the existing outfall sewer in Lawrence, which is part of the Andover system. (Andover's waste water ultimately reaches the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District treatment plant in North Andover.)

With a $2 million grant assured, the state will definitely pay for half the cost of building the pumping station, the representative said. Additional state money, perhaps another $1.5 million, may be allocated to fund half the cost of the force main as well, but Tucker said she was not sure when that state decision might be made.

All plans and specifications for the station have been completed, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said Monday, and the project may be put out to bid in late October or early November. Construction could begin in December or January, the manager said.

According to project plans, the new pumping station will not actually be built on Riverina Road, but across the Shawsheen River on Tantallon Road.

Tucker said she has been working along with Senator Patricia McGovern, the town manager, and Public Works Director Robert McQuade for the past several months to win a state grant, and the representative said she was "thrilled" by their success.

She credited Mahony and McQuade for being ready with the engineering plans, noting that Andover was far from the top

High School Nursery Taking Registrations

Andover High School Nursery School is taking registrations for enrollment in the 1984-85 session. This nursery school, serving children ages three and four, is operated as part of the "Exploring Childhood" course at the high school.

Students spend the first term studying about children in preparation for the work they will do running the nursery school. Under the supervision of their teacher, these students plan and carry out varied learning activities for the children.

The nursery school will run from mid-November to mid-May. Children must have turned three years old before 9/31/84. Two sections are available—the first meets Monday and Wednesday mornings and the other meets Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

This relatively low-cost program is available to residents of Andover. If demand exceeds space, a lottery will be held October 12 to elect the children.

Applications are available at the main office of Andover High School. Deadline for application is October 11.

Andover Art Guild Offers Art Classes

The Andover Artists Guild will sponsor an eight-week oil painting class, to be held from 9 a.m. to noon at the Bank of New England, Main Street, Andover. The first class will be held on Monday, Oct. 1.

Voter Registration Saturday

Town Clerk Elden Salter said this week that his office will be open from noon to 8 p.m. this Saturday, Sept. 29, to accommodate townspeople who'd like to register to vote in November's presidential election. The clerk's office is located in the new town office building on Bartlet Street.

The deadline for voter registration for the Nov. 6 election is Tuesday, Oct. 9. On that date, the town clerk's office will be open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. to register voters.

Tow Zones Approved At Town Offices

Parking at the town office building, Chapter Two: During their last meeting on Sept. 10, the Board of Selectmen set a 15-minute limit on parking in the circular driveway at the main entrance to the building, and in spaces designated for use by the handicapped.

This week, the board approved the town manager's request to make those areas tow zones, along with both sides of the fire lanes in the school parking lot off Bartlet Street (where two-hour visitor parking is allowed.)

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony explained that since the parking limits were set earlier this month, some drivers have continued to ignore them. Parking in the fire lanes is particularly hazardous, he noted.

The new tow zones made at least one selectman nervous during Monday night's meeting at the town offices (Norma Gammon confessed that she had parked in the circular driveway), but Mahony assured her that the restrictions would be enforced only during school hours.

Races, Permits Approved By Selectmen

The Board of Selectmen approved plans for a road race, a bike-a-thon, and live entertainment at an Andover restaurant during a meeting at town offices on Bartlet Street Monday night.

CLASS, Inc. received permission to hold its first annual 10K road race, "Run with CLASS," at 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28. The race will start at the CLASS building, 16 Haverhill St., and proceed to York Street, Burnham Road, Dufton Road, Walnut Avenue, across Summer Street to Stratford Road, Chestnut Street, Highland Road, Salem Street, High Street, Haverhill Street, and back to the start. The Police Department has approved the route.

The board also approved plans for an annual Bike-a-Thon on Oct. 7, to be sponsored by Rescue 9 CB Radio Club to benefit cancer research. The race route will include part of North Street and Ballard Road.

Andover Jade Restaurant, Inc., of 217 North Main St. (Shawsheen Plaza) received a license to have live entertainment during their regular weekday business hours.

Also Monday night: Bay State Gas Company received permission to excavate at two lots on Osgood Street, and in High Street at 140 Haverhill St. (Doctor's Park) to install gas services; at 18 Elm St. (Rembrandt's) to renew gas service; and in Summer Street at Avon Street and at 13 Center St. to make repairs. The town manager recommended approval.

And, acting as sewer commissioners, the selectmen approved sanitary sewer connection for one lot on Bateson Drive, one on Shadow Lane, and one for Gillette at Burt Road.

Church Plans Yard Sale

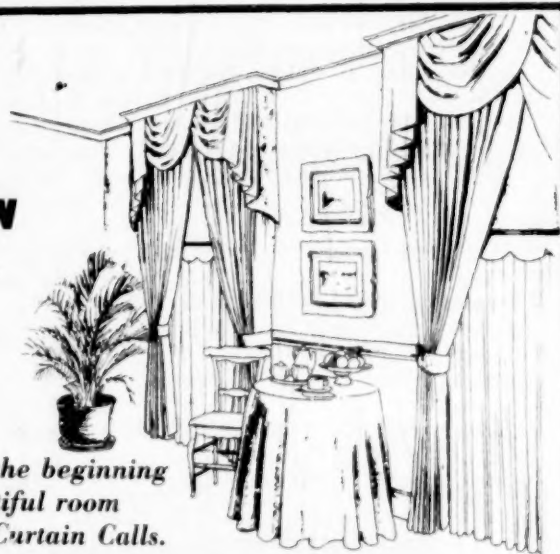

A giant yard sale is being planned on the grounds of Faith Lutheran Church Saturday, Sept. 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The funds raised from this event are planned to offset the expenses of the first parish retreat to be held at LaSalette Shrine in Ipswich October 12-14.

A table with hot coffee, doughnuts and other assorted baked goods will be available. The cookbook assembled by church members will be on sale. The proceeds are given to Neighbors in Need.

Donated items are still being accepted. Arrangements to have the items picked up may be made by calling Rita Zulstorff, Dee Boetcher or Linda Beerbaum. Volunteers are still needed to tag items from Wednesday to Friday.

Ballot Question Approved

The Attorney General's office has informed state representative candidate Susan Poore that the referendum question she worked to have placed on the ballot in November has been approved.

Poore, Republican candidate for state representative in the 17th Essex District, worked during the month of June to collect the necessary signatures to place the question before the voters on November 6. Poore commented, "The tax was adopted in 1975 as a temporary revenue measure. Our legislators promised to remove the tax and now, with a huge surplus in Boston, is the time to do it. Massachusetts taxpayers have given more than their share; it's time we do something novel and historic by letting people keep more of their own money."

The question reads: "Shall the representative be instructed to vote for legislation which would repeal the 7½ percent surtax on the state 5 percent income tax?" Poore noted that the passage of the petition will send a clear message to the representative of Andover and Lawrence.

"The surtax has fulfilled its purpose and the state government ought to follow through on its promises. Six other states with temporary surtaxes have all repealed or reduced them this year, keeping their promises to their constituents. Why can't we do the same? We should expect nothing less," said Poore.

Andover and some Lawrence voters will be able to decide the surtax question in the general election on November 6.

The plays to be presented are:

Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap," the longest running play in theatrical history, will be presented on October 19, 20, 21, 26 and 27. This is a classic whodone-it containing all the plush settings, fascinating characters, plot twists and unexpected turns of events that have become Christie trademarks.

"The Boyfriend," an irrepressible musical romp set in the Roaring 20s, will be put on by the junior high school-age members of A.C.T. on November 16, 17 and 18.

"Never Too Late," a light-hearted comedy centered around a middle-aged couple's "developing" predicament, takes a warm, humorous look at a very contemporary issue on February 8, 9, 10, 15 and 16. "Cinderella," the most oft-told and beloved fairy tale, March 29, 30 and 31.

"Seesaw," a breezy, brassy musical and an intimate, bittersweet comedy all rolled into one, April 26, 27, 28 and May 3 and 4.

"Gershwin," August 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10.

World War I Photo In Exhibit

World War I Exhibit Opens

By Virginia Lopez Begg

"Over There... and Over Here" is the catchy title of the Andover Historical Society's new exhibit about Andover in World War I opening Sunday, Sept. 30, at the society's Sunday Open House from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The public is invited.

The exhibit opening will be honored by the presence of a number of local veterans of World War I. In addition, Frank Rowe and Bob O'Connell will play songs from the period on the bagpipes and the electric piano as guests enjoy apple cider and cookies.

The exhibit features memorabilia of the war as it was experienced by local soldiers and nurses "over there" in Andover. It illustrates what was occurring here to help with the war effort, such as liberty loans, victory gardens, the Red Cross and the Home Guard.

The Andover Historical Society earlier this year appealed to the community for items relating to the planned exhibit and many people responded generously. Such artifacts as flags, gold stars, letters and newspaper clippings illustrate the impact of World War I on this small New England town.

Some lent sheet music with tunes that evoke the era, such as "Over There" and "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Others lent welcome home medals, presented by the town to veterans in special ceremonies after the war. The colorful artwork of posters urging men to enlist and all to buy liberty bonds are a major feature of the exhibit. Soldiers' uniforms are also on display.

World War I touched the lives of everyone in Andover. Phillips Academy, in March 1917, substituted military drill for physical education. Abbot Academy also had military drill in addition to its own victory garden and the knitting accomplished by the girls. Girl Scouts knitted for the soldiers, picking up wool at the churches and returning the finished articles there for shipment overseas.

To prepare for the exhibit, members of the Andover Historical Society tape-recorded the memories of a number of local citizens as an oral history project. These will be retained at the society.

Under the guidance of curator Marsha Rooney, "Over There... and Over Here" was prepared by the Joan Rollenhagen, chairperson, Dot Tavern, Reta Buchan, Marjorie Fenton, Violet Curtin and Barbara Alden, the exhibits committee. The exhibit will run through January 9, 1985.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit educational institution open to both members and public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the society office open Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Waste Disposal Draws Large Response

Marty Kolker of SCA Chemical Services packs away paints and related materials in 55-gallon drum to be taken away during hazardous waste cleanup day last Saturday. The program was conducted by the Andover Board of Health, Andover League of Women Voters and Andover Recycling.

Andover's Household Hazardous Waste Disposal Day last Saturday attracted so many local householders with a large volume of waste motor oil, paint, insecticides and other substances that all the barrels brought by Recycling Industries were filled an hour before closing time. A steady stream of cars, bearing varying quantities of chemicals for disposal, entered the West Junior High parking lot from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Five or six people had to be turned away after all the containers were packed and loaded onto the truck headed for Braintree where sorting and processing would begin.

The assistant fire chief from North Andover came as an observer because the neighboring community is planning a similar clean-up for spring. The response to this year's program, with participation by almost twice as many people as the clean-up in May 1983, indicated that interest and awareness all over the state are growing steadily.

Andover's next Household Hazardous Waste Clean-up Day will probably be held in the fall of 1985. In the meantime, residents may be glad to know that waste motor oil may be brought to any Sears, Roebuck automotive department and should also be readily accepted by any filling station that sells motor oil. Latex paints may be safely discarded in the weekly trash collection.

This course will be of particular interest to ski patrol members and other special interest groups who are responsible for giving emergency care. Call the Red Cross for information or to register.

Recital Series To Conclude

The 1984 series of organ recitals at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall ends with Eileen Guenther as performing artist on Wednesday, Oct. 3, at 8:30 p.m.

Guenther holds the Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the Catholic University of America. She serves as minister of music at Foundry United Methodist Church in Washington, D.C., and is a member of the music faculty of George Washington University. She hosts a weekly program of organ music heard on WGMS, Washington's classical music station, and was recently elected national councillor for organizational concerns of the American Guild of Organists. Guenther was one of the featured artists at the 1984 A.G.O. national convention in San Francisco last June.

For her program she has selected: Prelude and fugue in g minor, Dietrich Buxtehude; Two Leipzig Chorale Preludes and Concerto in a minor, Johann Sebastian Bach; Toccata in G, Theodore Dubois; Coronation March, "Crown Imperial," William Walton; Et Resurrexit, Kenneth Leighton; Piece Heroique, Cesar Franck.

The grand pipe organ of nearly 6,000 pipes was built originally by Walcker of Ludwigsburg, Germany, for the Boston Music Hall. The only pipe organ to include a building designed and built especially to display and support its performances, it is today irreplaceable.

The Music Hall is located on Broadway (Route 28), Methuen. Offstreet parking is provided next to the building.

"Ain't Misbehavin' " Featured

"Ain't Misbehavin'," the Tony award-winning musical that delighted New York audiences for more than three years, will be featured as the next attraction at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, Shawsheen Road, off Route 133, Andover on Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 8 p.m.

To be presented as the second in the 15-show Diamond Series, "Ain't Misbehavin' " is based on the works of the legendary jazz musician Fats Waller and will feature some of the original Broadway cast.

This attraction is being sponsored by radio station WSSH.

Consisting of some 30 songs written or made famous by Waller, "Ain't Misbehavin' " recreates the atmosphere of a delectably lowdown Harlem cabaret of the 1930s. Along with its title song, it offers foot-stomping renditions of such Waller classics as "Honeysuckle Rose," "Squeeze Me," and "The Joint is Jumpin' . "

Leslie Barlow, Evan Bell, Marion Caffey, Annie Joe Edwards and Boncella Lewis are the stars, accompanied by a swinging jazz band led by Neal Tate, who also officiates at the on-stage piano.

Other composers whose songs Waller turned into world-wide hits are also aired in the solos, duets and production numbers that make up this award-winning entertainment. "I'm Gonna Sit Right Down and Write Myself a Letter," "Two Sleepy People," "I Can't Give You Anything but Love" and "It's A Sin to Tell A Lie" are some of the memorable standards that are given a rousing reprise.

Some of the show's moments that recreate the style of Fats Waller's own roisterous clowning include a clonelike duplication of "Your Feet's Too Big" and Evan Bell leading the company in a rendition of Waller's first song recording, "It Ain't Nobody's Biz-ness If I Do."

Tickets for "Ain't Misbehavin' " are available at the Collins Center Box Office, "Just for You," 36 Main St., Andover, and the Andover and North Andover branches of Andover Savings Bank.

Organ To Be Featured In Recital

The Organ Historian Society of America presented the Brooks School, North Andover, with an award this past spring, citing the organ in the Ashburn Chapel as historically important and worthy of preservation. The instrument will be heard in concert this Sunday, Sept. 30, at 3 p.m.

The recitalist will be Earl L. Miller, the director of chapel music for the school and music director of Christ Church, Andover. Miller, a nationally recognized concert artist and educator, has prepared a series of concerts throughout the 1984-85 season featuring the school's organ. The concerts are free and open to the public.

For the first concert a variety of literature has been chosen to demonstrate the versatility of this unusual pipe organ. From the Baroque period, the composers Lubeck of Germany, Jacinto and Seixas of Spain and d'Aquin of France will be featured. From the 19th century literature, works of Guilmant, Widor and Hollins will be heard.

American-born Cyril Jenkins will be used to represent the 20th century with two tone poems,

"Dawn" and "Night" The program will end with a rousing march, the "Marche Militaire" by Charles Gounod.

The organ was designed by the then head of the math department, Edward Flint, in 1928 and built by the Aeolian-Skinner Organ Company of Boston. It is the oldest existing "experiment" in its original location in which the Aeolian-Skinner Company attempted to recreate an instrument in the 18th century, European style. These organs became known as the American Classic Organ experiments and very few remain today.

The instrument has been cited in many books written on the subject of organ design and American organ history and is a superb example of a small organ design with three keyboards and 22 sets of pipes.

The school is located on Route 133 between North Andover and Georgetown. The chapel is in the center of the campus and there is parking on the school grounds. Concert goers may wish to take time to walk around the lake-front campus which is known for its fine landscaping.

Helen Belanger, Carmel Road, and Edna Powell, standing, members of the planning group, 'Come Together,' from St. Augustine's church, serve senior citizens, Larry Hannan, Rena Maloney and Gabrielle Boulais along with Fr. Terrance Hyland, OSA, during the first meetint of the season.

Seniors Activities Underway

St. Augustine's Parish Seniors Get-Togethers for the 1984-85 year began last Wednesday with a special liturgy, followed by social hour in Good Counsel Hall. While refreshments were served, guests enjoyed a slide show by travel agent Susan Schumacher. Her organization will offer trips for seniors and others later in the year. The first is expected to be a day excursion in December, including a viewing of the Christmas lights at the shrine of Our Lady of LaSalette in North Attleboro.

Other seniors get-togethers planned for the fall are a talk on today's church with associate pastor Fr. James Vitali on October 17 and the annual Day of Recollection at the Sisters of Notre Dame Convent off School Street on November 14. The Day of Recollection begins at 10 a.m. and includes lunch.

Seniors get-togethers are held every month from September through June, usually from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. in Good Counsel Hall on the second or third Wednesday. Each program begins with a spiritual focus and ends with an informal social hour. Refreshments often include home-baked confections provided by the seniors themselves. Transportation is available on request. All elderly of St. Augustine's, Andover, are invited to attend any or all of these monthly get-togethers. Further information will be gladly given by Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck or anyone at St. Augustine's rectory.

Theatre Changes Name

Lowell's Merrimack Regional Theatre will become the Merrimack Repertory Theatre as it moves into its new $6 million home for the 1985 season.

The board of directors voted in June to change the name in order to better indicate the theatre's professional status. The Merrimack has been operating under a full Equity LORT contract for six years, longer than Cambridge's American Repertory Theatre or Boston's Huntington Theatre Company.

Producing Director Daniel L. Schay commented that "While we are proud of the area we serve, the word 'regional' in our title seemed to confuse potential audiences about the nature of our company. The term 'repertory' has come to stand for our sort of resident professional theatre; it also reflects our commitment to a loosely structured but real company of directors, designers and actors from both New York and New England who return here, over time, to grow with us."

The theatre's new home will be 398-seat Liberty Hall, part of Lowell's Memorial Auditorium complex, which is undergoing a $6 million renovation, financed by the state and city. The Merrimack will delay the opening of its five-play subscription season until the construction is completed in January; "A Christmas Carol," a non-subscription offering, will be given in the theatre's old venue, Mahoney Hall, at the University of Lowell.

The new space is located in the heart of Lowell's National Historical Park, directly across from the new Lowell Hilton and the Wang Laboratories Training Center and will provide theatregoers with direct access to restaurants, shopping and sights.

Special Programs

On Saturday, Oct. 6, and Sunday, Oct. 7, the Walt Disney feature film "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" will be shown at 2 p.m. at the Museum of Our National Heritage in Lexington. The 127-minute-long film is based on Jules Verne's prophetic novel of the atomic-powered submarine Nautilus, commanded by the mysterious Captain Nemo. This sea adventure shows how he takes his prisoner-guests on a spectacular voyage below the seven seas; how the crew battles a gi-gantic squid; how Nemo wreaks his destruction on a nitrate ship. Admission is free.

Children are invited to attend "The Royal Lichtenstein One-Quarter Ring Circus," with eight amazing performers who call themselves the smallest circus in the world, on Monday, Oct. 8, at 2 p.m. Admission to the program is free, with tickets available one hour prior to the performance. Tickets will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis.

Extended Hours For Registration

Extended hours for voter registration will be held in the town clerk's office at the Andover Town Office building on Bartlet Street on Saturday, Sept. 29, from noon to 8 p.m.; Tuesday, Oct. 2, from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.; and Tuesday, Oct. 9, from 8:30 a.m. to 10 p.m.

June Blake, voter service/citizen information chairperson for the League of Women Voters, urges those who are not yet registered, but eligible to vote in the presidential election on November 6, to take advantage of these additional registration hours. Regular hours are weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Due to land-scaping restrictions, the south entrance next to Doherty Junior High School should be used.

Phone Book Has New Look

The new 1984 Lawrence combined White and Yellow Pages directory, now being delivered, has a new look.

The Lawrence combined directory features a new, uniform cover design which will appear on subsequent directories published for New England Telephone by NYNEX Information Resources Company.

The new cover features a high-tech graphic on a golden-orange field for Yellow Pages and for combined White and Yellow Pages directories. A dark blue field will be used for White Pages directories.

The uniform cover will enable customers to easily identify NYNEX Information Resources' directories throughout New England and New York Telephone's operating areas.

"The new design will help reemphasize the relationship between New England Telephone and NYNEX Information Resources Company as publisher, via the positioning of the two companies' and Yellow Pages' logo types," said David L. Wibbelsman, NYNEX information resources president.

"The graphic will also increase the visibility of NYNEX Information Resources' Publishing effort in a competitive marketplace," said Wibbelsman.

NYNEX Information Resources publishes 260 directories each year for New York and New England Telephone, for a total printing of approximately 28 million copies.

The Lawrence directory contains an expanded Customer Guide with explanations of changes related to the divestiture of AT&T and its local operating companies, including New England Telephone, which occurred January 1.

The guide explains new procedures for service and repair and that the New England Telephone Company will provide dial tone, basic local service, long distance calling within each LATA and will maintain local lines. New England Telephone will no longer supply telephone equipment. A section on long distance calling is important because it explains the new LATAs—Local Access Transport Areas—which are regions within which New England Telephone is allowed to carry toll calls. In New England Telephone's five-state area, the LATAs coincide with the area codes.

Other sections in the Customer Guide include directory assistance, billing and payment information, procedures to follow when receiving annoying or harrasing calls, services available to the disabled, a list of area codes throughout the country, an explanation and illustrations on how to recognize and use different types of connections for telephones in the home and instructions for long distance and international calling. The Customer Guide details consumer rights and responsibilities, money saving tips and also contains a Community Services Self-Help Guide and a Guide to Government Services.

The Yellow Pages section contains market facts about a Yellow Pages Usage Survey for all products and services, helpful hints on how to be a better Yellow Pages advertising buyer and amplies of advertising copy. A partial Lawrence area zip code list is also included.

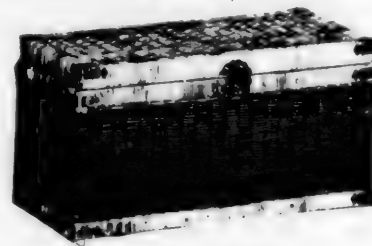

The directory contains listings of telephone customers in Andover and Lawrence and Salem, N.H.

Delivery of 92,500 copies of the directory should be completed by October 10, 1984.

Program Outlined To Chamber

Ruby Easton, counselor at the Andover High School, spoke to members of the board of directors of the Andover Chamber of Commerce at the meeting at Backstreet Restaurant.

President Frank Orlandella, an advocate of the Industry/Business/Community/Education Collaborative through his company, Hewlett Packard Company, invited Easton to the meeting to outline the program's statement of purpose, goals and objectives.

Easton asked the chamber directors to consider the collaborative a priority issue by hosting a seminar on public education, not only for peer recruitment but also as a source of awareness to the general public and parents as well as the business community.

Project discovery is now a full time project and deals in four separate components. "It's important for students to learn about industry," stated Easton, "but just as important to know what happens in industry that affects students in school."

Norman Viehmann was appointed by Orlandella to chair a subcommittee to consider the details involved in such a venture. He will also look into a legislative proposal presented by Mr. Collins of Amherst that asks for a complete revamp of the educational system.

Reports of this project will be made at the chamber's next monthly meeting.

WOMEN & CUSTODY

If you are separated from your husband and are concerned that your husband may intend to fight you for custody of your children, you may be hesitant to date, socialize or pursue a career because you are afraid you will lose your children if you do. If you have been the primary caretaker of your children before or since the separation, the standard which a Court will apply to determine which parent shall be awarded custody - the best interest of the children - does not necessarily require you to make drastic changes in your lifestyle or your career. icates to each bride in attendance.

Annette M. Overton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draughan of Roanoke Rapids, N.C., wed Christopher J. Mackie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Mackie of Andover recently at St. John the Baptist Church in Roanoke Rapids, N.C. The Rev. Edward Noonan officiated, assisted by the Rt. Rev. Clarence E. Hobgood. Sandra Hayes gave a reading and Jess Perry was soloist.

Leigh Hobgood of Williamsburg, Va., was maid of honor and Debra Pepper of Laurel, Md. served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Lisa Hoffman of Auburn, N.Y., Anne Mackie of Andover, sister of the groom, and Melani McAlister of Albermarle, N.C.

Brian A. Mackie of Andover was best man for his brother. Ushers were Bernhard Carr of New York, N.Y., William Fields of Pinehurst, N.C., William Overton of Kannapolis, N.C., and William Hurlin of Seabrook, Md.

The bride's chapel-length gown and train were of chiffon over organza, fashioned with hem pleating and trimmed with Schiffli lace. Her veil of illusion was fastened to a floral headpiece of organdy orange blossoms and trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses, ivy and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids wore empire gowns of mauve taffeta with matching lace boleros. Each carried a long-stemmed white rose.

Federal Period Is Theme

After a summer respite, members of the Andover Garden Club will gather in the November Club Tuesday, Oct. 2, for the first meeting of the new year.

Following a 12:30 p.m. dessert, Mrs. Robert H. Lange, vice president, will introduce Mrs. Grace Desjardin of Sudbury. The theme is "The Federal Period Recaptured," of special interest to those club members who have incorporated elements of this era into their home decor. Desjardin will illustrate with antiques, fabrics and flowers.

Desjardin is well known to New England television audiences for her regular appearances on the "Good Day Show" where she presents fascinating insights into the varied and colorful world of antiques.

She grew up in Wellesley, received her Bachelor of Science degree from Simmons College and her Master of Education from Northeastern University. Desjardin began her career working with her husband as an interior decorator and, ultimately, as a service to clients, she started an antique business.

She draws on her collections and the many resources at her command to present intriguing lectures. Having so many containers to work with and such a depth of background in period design, Desjardin has become an expert on period flower arranging and is the only five-time winner of the Marie Cook award for her period flower arranging offered at the Boston Flower Show. She has served on the board of the Garden Club Federation of Mass. and is a National Council Flower Show Judge.

Tea table hostesses will be Mrs. Albert S. Rothseid and Mrs. Thomas Simmonds, Jr. Mrs. Stephen Poor will provide the floral arrangement.

IT'S TIME TO PUT YOUR 2¢ WORTH INTO STATE GOVERNMENT.

The power in Massachusetts state government rests with a handful of people.

It's that way because the State House is filled with politicians who are afraid to question the House Leadership, and who give in to powerful special interest groups.

And that's why we pay outrageous taxes and live in fear because our laws aren't tough enough to keep dangerous criminals off the streets.

It's time we elected a state representative who isn't afraid to take on the Leadership when they're wrong, and to stand up for the wishes of the people she serves.

That person is Susan Poore. She's proven it in the years she's been a town selectman and a member of the school committee.

It's time to put your 2¢ worth in state government - by voting for Susan Poore for state representative.

A fighter when we need one most

Leaves

According to Indian legend, red leaves symbolize the killing of the Great Bear of the heavens and yellow leaves symbolize the cooking fires.

Botanists say the colors are there all the time, hidden by the green chlorophyll needed for summer growth.

As the days get shorter and nights grow colder, chlorophyll fades and the tree stops growing for the season. Then out come the leaf colors.

Peace Group Covenants, Worships

The Andover Ecumenical Peace group will ask members of Andover's religious community to join them in covenanting for peace. The covenant, a joint effort of lay and clergy members of 10 local churches and Phillip's Academy seeks an individual commitment to peacemaking in response to a shared understanding of the scriptures. "We hope to provide a vehicle by which the Andover religious community can join in prayer, study, dialogue and action for peace," noted Rev. Bill Mullin of St. Robert's. "As a first step we are asking those who take their role as peacemakers seriously to join together in prayer and study," he noted. A series of nine ecumenical monthly prayer services for peace will be offered during the coming year.

The Andover Peace Group was formed in May 1984 in response to a growing concern for the issues of peace expressed during the monthly meetings of the Andover Clergy Association. "During the season of Lent several local churches held forums to discuss the issue of peace. This discussion brought about an awareness that there were others in the Andover community who shared our concern but we needed a way to draw support for each other," said Mullin. "Many of us began to explore the imperatives of peacemaking through our religious leaders," added Katherine Robinson of Ballard Vale United Church. "We hear what our bishops have said and feel compelled to make our response." "Above all, we hope to create a dialogue," said

Ann Traver of Christ Episcopal Church. "We want to include everyone who is seeking peace, no matter what their political orientation."

The Andover Peace Covenant will be presented to the local churches by members and clergy of their own congregations. Each church will gather signatures for the covenant during the next three-week period. These signatures will be dedicated during the first Ecumenical Prayer Service on October 16 at St. Augustine's at 7:30 p.m. Other Andover churches participating in the Peace Covenant are Christ Episcopal Church, St. Robert's Catholic Church, Ballard Vale United Church, South Church, Andover Baptist, Cochran Chapel at Phillip's Academy, Free Christian Church, Faith Lutheran Church, West Parish Church and North Boston Korean United Methodist Church. Beyond prayer and reflection each service will offer an opportunity for the host faith/denomination to share a brief statement on the teachings of peace as set forth by their religious leaders.

Highlighting the covenant will be an original sketch prepared for the Andover Peace Covenant Community by Robin Cole, a local artist and member of St. Augustine's Parish. "It is a vision," Cole explained, "the vision of every man, woman and child reaching out for peace."

Andover Temple Observes Holy Days

Members of Temple Emanuel, Andover, will celebrate the Jewish new year with a series of special services at the Haggetts Pond Road temple.

Today they will meet for the second service of Rosh Hashanah, the ten day period of penitence which culminates in the fast of Yom Kippur. Also called Yom Hazikkoron, "the day of remembrance," Yom Kippur is an introspective time and solemn holiday, quite unlike the Christian celebration of Christmas.

Tomorrow services will be held at 10 a.m., for those with blue tickets, and at 8:15 p.m., there is a Sabbath evening service.

Children's services will be held for pre-schoolers and youngsters in grades one and two, in the youth lounge of the school wing today and tomorrow during the adult services.

Rabbi Harry A. Roth will conducting the services and will be accompanied by Cantor Norman Brody.

Participating in the temple choir during the special services are Frances Ullian, Joan Lewis, Janet Martin, Rose Lederman, Jerome and Marilyn Iskols, Gail Rosengard, Laura Fluhr, Debra Fay Leffman, Anna Shenker, Martin Heller, Louis Posternak, Joel Labell, Stephen Witover, Robert Lewin, Alan Lustig and Ruth Ruderman. Holly Perlman will accompany the group at the organ and Elaine Lewin will play the flute.

Baptism At Church Sunday

The Sacrament of Christian Baptism will be celebrated at this Sunday's 10:30 a.m. service at the Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church, United Church of Christ). The Rev. Gary S. Cornell will have "Promises, Promises" as his preaching theme, based on the parable of the two sons in Matthew, chapter 21. Church school for adults and youth (grades 9-12) meets at 9:30 a.m. and for children at 10:30 a.m. The church school class for junior high youth meets on Wednesday evenings at the church parsonage.

Clergy At Conference

Spiritual guidance and medical dilemmas were the theme of an ecumenical conference for clergy from New England, entitled Genetic Disorders and Today's Family: The Pastoral Bridge, held in Scarborough, Maine, Sept. 9-11.

New techniques for assessing human genetics have brought many families increased opportunities for having healthy babies. But, these methods, which are becoming more powerful for determining carriers of genetic defects and making prenatal diagnosis, may also present a family with difficult dilemmas. "The clergy must become aware of inherited disorders and their effects, not only on the individual patient, but on whole families, sometimes over several generations," say Fr. Robert C. Baumiller, S.J., Ph.D., director of genetics, Georgetown University Hospital, and keynote speaker at the conference.

The clergy explored the medical, moral and ethical dilemmas faced by families today. The focus of the conference was to educate so that clergy and pastoral counselors will be better able to advise competently. Topics and issues addressed included basic concepts in genetics, genetic counseling, newborn screening, adult onset disorders and ethics.

Rabbi Harry A. Roth, Temple Emanuel, Andover, attended.

Fellowship Observes Holy Days

The Andover Jewish Fellowship invites members of the Jewish community to observe the High Holy Days. Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, and Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, are the most important Holy Days in the Jewish calendar. The period between these two days is, for Jews all over the world, a period of reflection and resolution, an evaluation of the past and a new beginning for the future.

Rosh Hashanah services will be held Thursday, Sept. 27, at 10 a.m. at the Lawrence Jewish Community Center, 580 Haverhill St., Lawrence. Yom Kippur services will be held Saturday, Oct. 6, at 10 a.m. at the November Club, 6 Locke St., Andover.

For further information about the High Holy Day services, or about the Andover Jewish Fellowship, contact Joa Cohen, 27 Vine St., Andover.

Fellowship Schedules Coffees

Membership coffees will be held Friday, Oct. 19, for new members and anyone interested in joining the Andover Jewish Fellowship. Current members will provide information and answer questions at these informal get-togethers.

The AJF is a cooperative group dedicated to practicing, preserving and exploring Judaism through holiday observance, havurah discussions and social events. The group supports a religious school for preschool through Bar Mitzvah ages, and functions as a community providing support and friendship as well as religious sharing. All services and events are planned and executed by AJF members and the group maintains no institutional affiliations.

Membership is open to individuals or families interested in an alternative Jewish religious organization. For further information, or to register for the coffees, contact Joan N. Cohen, 27 Vine St., Andover.

Terry L. Shettel

Terry L. Shettel, 101 Central St., Andover, died Sept. 25, at the Wilmington Regional Health Center, in Wilmington, from injuries sustained in an automobile accident that afternoon in North Reading. He was 39.

Mr. Shettel was traveling south on Concord Street, in North Reading, when his car was struck by an automobile driven by Edward J. Lombardo, of Peabody, who left the scene of the accident after hitting Mr. Shettel's car.

North Reading police apprehended Lombardo in Wilmington a short while later and have charged him with vehicular homicide, driving while under the influence of alcohol, fleeing the scene of an accident, failure to stay within the marked lanes of the road and driving to endanger.

North Reading firefighters arrived at the accident scene and worked for half an hour with the Jaws of Life to free Mr. Shettel, who, fire officials say, was trapped in his car. He was transported to the Wilmington Regional Health Center at 6:30 p.m., and died there, according to North Reading firefighters.

An Andover resident for five and one half years, Mr. Shettel was born in Pennsylvania and attended schools there. He worked as an engineer at Lewis Refrigeration Co., in Malden.

Pneumonia, Flu Clinics Scheduled

The Andover Board of Health will sponsor influenza and pneumococcal pneumonia clinics again this fall as part of an overall campaign to reduce the incidence and prevalence of these diseases. It is anticipated that there will be a moderately severe outbreak of influenza in Massachusetts this winter. Pneumococcal pneumonia is caused by a bacteria and is one of the many forms of bacterial pneumonia to which humans are susceptible. Re-vaccination or booster for pneumonia is not required.

The vaccinations are indicated for persons in the senior age group and/or persons with certain chronic conditions or diseases. The shots will be administered Thursday, Oct. 4, at the Doherty School cafeteria from 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Free parking will be available in back of the new school addition. Pre-registration is required for the pneumonia vaccine only and there will be a $5 charge. Flu shots are free and no pre-registration is required. To pre-register or for further information, call the public health nurse at 470-3800 ext. 255. Any questions regarding the clinical aspects of the vaccine or personal medical needs should be directed to your personal physician. Transportation will be available on the Weebus.

Search Continues For New Post Office Site

By Susan Rand

The search is still on for a piece of land that will accommodate a new post office building in downtown Andover.

Back in May postal officials began advertising for a 66,000 square foot site on which to build a new main post office building. The size of the site has been pared down and now the U.S. Postal Service is using a Boston real estate company to help them locate a site.

R.M. Bradley and Co. Inc., of Boston, is advertising for a 18,000 square foot site, which has adequate parking for trucks. Executive Vice-President Stephen G. Kasnet told THE TOWNSMAN that his company hopes to complete a report on their land search for the U.S.

Postal Service by the end of September. In addition, he said, R.M. Bradley is doing a study of sites on their own "to see what sites will work," he said.

In June postal managers in New York City, who were handling the original land search, were considering three or four parcels of land in Andover for the new main post office. But they never revealed the land under consideration and now those parcels have all been thrown out, said John Conte, from the New York public relations office.

"We chose to readvertise," Conte said.

At one time there was also talk of using the old Town Hall building on Main Street for the new postal center but that idea is now just a "remote" consideration, said Town Manager Kenneth Mahony.

Kasnet said his company would prefer land in Andover's General Business District but would consider "anything anywhere in Andover that might work."

Post office space has been at a premium since 1978 when some of the sorting tasks were moved from Andover's main office to Lawrence because there wasn't enough space to do the work here. The 17,000 square foot Main Street office houses 408 mailboxes and patrons may mail packages from the site as well as purchase stamps there.

Shawmut Bank May Purchase Town Library

The Shawmut Bank of Boston appears to have the inside track on buying Memorial Hall Library from Andover for a 15-year period, as part of the town's plan to finance a $5.2 million renovation project at the library.

Andover is still negotiating with Shawmut, but the chances that the Boston bank will buy the library "look good," Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said Monday. The manager said he expected to reach a firm agreement with the bank by mid-October.

Sale of the library, for the sum of $1, could be finalized during the first week of November, Mahony said. During a Nov. 5 hearing, town officials also hope to win Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority (MIFA) approval of approximately $5.2 million in low-interest industrial revenue bonds to help fund the project.

Trust Construction Co. of Chelmsford may be able to start construction some time next month, the manager said.

(The contractor recently proved to the the Labor and Industrial Board that it did in fact comply with bidding regulations when it submitted a low bid of $3.7 million. The second-lowest bidder, Anchor Construction of Lowell, had charged that Trust Construction failed to fully comply with those regulations.)

Shawmut is one of five banks, including three local institutions, that have shown an interest in buying the library for $1, and selling it back to the town 15 years later for the same price. The bank that eventually buys the library will act as a trustee, awarding the construction contract and financing the project in exchange for yearly payments of about $650,000 from the town.

Project plans call for expanding the library to nearly twice its present size, as well as renovating the existing building.

Auto Show

The Derry Lions Club 11th Annual Auto Show will be held September 30 at the Hood Junior High School athletic field in Derry, N.H.

This year's show will feature antique cars, customized vans and autos, street rods and a variety of special interest autos competing in separate categories for several special trophies.

The show begins at 10 a.m. with judging beginning at 12 p.m.

Rain date will be October 7.

85 Years Young

George Bruce, the man they call "the Mayor of Ballardvale," received a congratulatory citation on Monday from State Rep. Susan C. Tucker on behalf of the Massachusetts House of Representatives. Bruce, who works at Scanlon's Hardware, Main Street, was so busy helping customers that Tucker had to return to the store three times to present him with his award. He turned 85 on Wednesday, Aug. 28.

Children Outgrow Glasses, Too

You expect children to outgrow their shoes and shirts—but do you realize they are twice as likely to outgrow their glasses?

It's a fact. Their eyewear prescriptions usually change during these growing years. Always, though, their faces change, requiring changes in eyeglasses and contact lenses.

When no prescription change is needed, and the eyewear gets too small, if there's any way the useful life of your child's eyewear can be extended, a Guild Optician can do it for you. Or he can help you select new eyewear that reflects the changing lifestyle of your child. Come in to see us!

Lighting Committee Sparks School Board's Criticism

By Susan Rand

What started as an informational discussion with the School Committee erupted into a dressing-down on Tuesday night for John Barry, a member of a group of citizens investigating lighting at Lovely Field, Andover High School's playing field.

School Committee Chair Donald W. Robb told Barry his committee, officially appointed by the Board of Selectmen, had no right studying the night-lighting of the field without discussing the idea with the School Committee members.

And when Andover High School Principal Mary Athey Jennings asked Barry a question about the study committee Robb cut off the discussion saying he "was appalled" that Jennings hadn't been consulted by the lighting group.

"I am sick and tired of people in this town deciding as individuals what the high school will or will not do," said an angry Robb. "As far as I'm concerned that discussion should stop. I challenge the Town Manager's right to appoint a committee to light those fields."

For his part, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony told THE TOWNSMAN yesterday that he thought the committee was working as an "ad hoc" group. After checking he found instead that the lighting committee was officially formed a year ago yesterday by the Board of Selectmen at the request of some town residents who were interested in putting lights on the field.

Mahony said the group is not answering to anyone, they are simply investigating the viability and cost of lighting the field. (Barry told the school board that the lighting cost estimate was $50,000.) Selectmen Chairman Donn Byrne echoed Mahony's sentiments after he was told of the school board's discussion by THE TOWNSMAN. The lighting group would have consulted the school board, Byrne said.

"After a general discussion we decided to look into it," Byrne said of the selectmen's decision to appoint a group to study the lighting situation. The group wanted to find out what the cost of lights would be and what other school systems were doing about lighting fields for night games, he said.

"It is much ado about nothing," said Town Manager Mahony. "Lovely Field is totally under the control of the School Committee and I don't see that anyone would do anything without them. It is just completely irrational. As far as I'm concerned until there is money (for the project) there is nothing. I would really oppose putting lights on Lovely Field (with town funds) when we have other needs."

Byrne said all the selectmen were against spending town funds to light Lovely Field. The lighting committee was also investigating raising funds from private donations for the lights, Byrne explained.

But School Committeeman Richard W. Neal wondered aloud on Tuesday night where the funds for lights would be found.

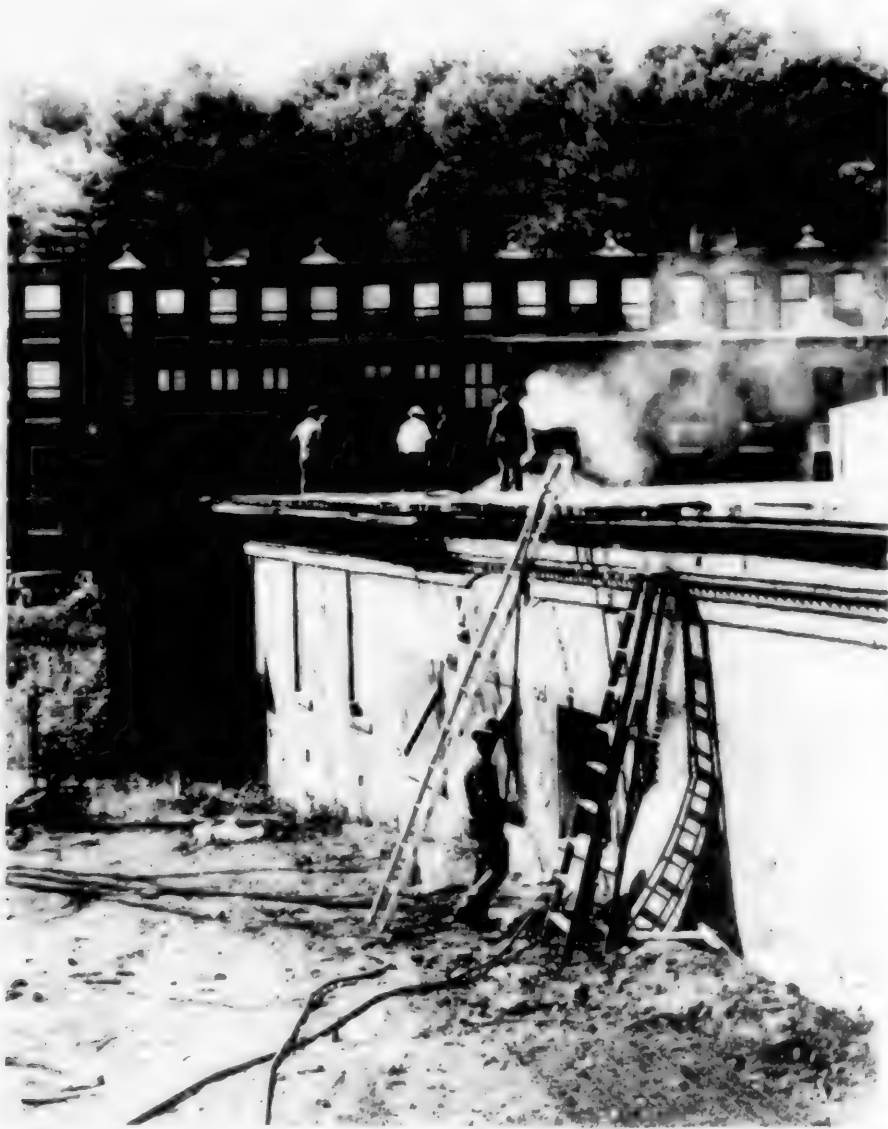

"This has an impact on a lot of people," Neal said of lighting the high school field, adding that security and the affect of the lights on the neighborhood should also be taken into consideration. "All of these things come out a budget and I can only guess whose it might be."

If the selectmen were overstepping their bounds, as school board members said they were, the issue was not really the lighting of a field but a larger picture of the "cross jurisdictional" responsibilities of both boards, according to School Committeewoman Susan T. Poore.

The confusion comes, she said, because the town owns the school buildings and the town Municipal Maintenance department is responsible for some work at the schools and school-hired maintenance workers are hired to do other upkeep jobs in the eight public schools.

"It is a legitimate 'fuzziness,'" Poore explained to THE TOWNSMAN. "And there is no great subversion involved

Battling A Roof Fire

Andover firefighters work to extinguish a roof fire at 15 Stevens St., started by a worker's torch. The fire, which began at 2:21 p.m., and kept the firefighters on the scene for an hour, got down into rotted roof timbers and a hole had to be made in the roof to get at the smoldering fire. The building is owned by Whittier Realty.

Police Arrest Four On Drug Charges In Shawsheen

By Susan Rand

Andover Police are clamping down on drug selling in town and for the second week made an arrest after watching suspected distributors. This time four Gould-Modicon workers were apprehended after work on Tuesday afternoon.

Arrested by Andover Police and charged with possession of a class D drug, marijuana; possession of class B cocaine with intent to distribute and conspiracy to violate narcotic laws were 32 year-old John E. Barrett, 61 Jackson St., Haverhill and Thomas J. St. Laurent, 24, who lives at 36 Pillsbury St., Georgetown. Andover Police alleged the two men were selling drugs out of Barrett's car, said Police Sgt. John Houlihan.

"Information came in that cocaine was being distributed out of a vehicle near the Shetland Properties area of Haverhill Street," explained Houlihan, who said that detectives Kevin Winters and David Grant arrested Barrett, St. Laurent, Maria Pomerleau, 27, 103 Swan St., Methuen, and Timothy G. Payson, 14 Floral St., Lawrence, on Argyle Street, Andover, on Tuesday afternoon. The police were watching the Shetland Properties area, said Houlihan.

All four were arraigned in Lawrence District Court yesterday morning. Andover Police have charged Pomerleau with possession of both marijuana and cocaine and intent to distribute the cocaine. Payson was charged with possession of marijuana, said Houlihan.

All four cases were continued to Nov. 30 in court and they were released on their own personal recognizance, a court clerk said.

Rules Reform

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Common cause believes that more effective and accountable state government can be achieved if the rules (by which both the House and the Senate are organized) can be changed to make them more democratic. Since "rule reform" would diminish the autocratic power of the leadership, the changes have been strongly resisted in spite of strong lobbying efforts by several public interested groups including Common Cause. However, an opportunity has arisen that may make these reforms achievable in the House. George Keverian has challenged House speaker McGee. Mr. Keverian has collected 73 prospective House members who pledge reforming House rules.

Up until now, citizens have only been able to have indirect input. However, on November 6 in Andover, voters will have a clear choice between Sue Tucker who is backing George Keverian for rules reform and Susan Poore who has declined to take a position at this late date on this important subject. Her indecisiveness translates into uncertainty as far as rules reform is concerned.

I, therefore, strongly urge all voters seeking responsible and accountable state government to support Ms. Tucker, who has had the courage to challenge the vindictive leadership, a leadership that organizes the government to servicing its needs rather than meeting the needs of the people.

Commended

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I wish to commend the TOWNSMAN for its fine editorial endorsing Ray Sharnie for the Republican nomination in the U.S. Senate race.

Massachusetts G.O.P. voters certainly echoed the TOWNSMAN's sentiments on Primary Day by overwhelmingly supporting Ray 62 percent to 38 percent.

The voters of the Commonwealth now have a unique opportunity to send Ray Sharnie to Washington and should take advantage of such. Recently, Ray clearly defined his brand of senator by saying, "My kind of senator is not a career politician, subject to the stresses and pressures of reelection. We need someone who can do the right thing and not have to worry about who he's going to offend. We need people who can vote their conscience, their experience, their knowledge and their ability."

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

There is so much going on at the senior center these days you have no excuse to be bored or lonely. Classes started this week and it is still possible to join some of them late. But, in addition to the classes, there are other activities.

Roger Brooks of Brown's Hotel in the Catskills will conduct an exercise demonstration on Monday, Oct. 1, at 1 p.m. It is free and you'll enjoy it. Tuesday, Oct. 2, is the date of the October Birthday Party. All of you who are October children are invited to let the staff know and come as guests of honor. The rest of you should come help them celebrate.

The Andover Historical Society will present the next in its series, this one on cotton manufacturing and the Lowell Mills, on Wednesday, Oct. 3 at 12:45 p.m.

Tom Ross will present a film, "Nobody Ever Died of Old Age," at 12:45 p.m. on October 4. And, later that day, the Public Health nurses will hold the annual flu clinic at Doherty School from 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. No appointment is necessary and the shot is free. You must call the health department (470-3800, ext. 255) if you need a pneumonia shot because you must make an appointment for that.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — September 1909

Morrison and O'Connell have had electric fans installed in their forges in place of the old style hand bellows thus securing much additional room at their shop.

The Punchard school opened this week with an enrollment of 125. Considerable repairing has been done on the building during the vacation, the outside trimmings having been repainted and much tinting done in the interior.

Robert A. Gardner, the old Phillips Andover track star and pole-vaulter, distinguished himself this week by winning the national amateur golf championship, surprising many of the critics by his wonderful playing.

There is absolutely no reason why a town that is nearly two to one Republican, should seriously consider sending a Democrat to represent it in the Legislature. The Republican party in Andover has plenty of men well able to maintain the character of the town and its position in the Legislature, without electing a Democrat to office, and however able the Democrat may be, very serious consideration should be given to this proposition before such a plan is followed this year. We do not believe there is the least chance for the defeat of a strong, able Republican nominee, and such a man must be found.

50 Years Ago — September 1934

One amendment was added to the proposed zoning ordinance following a hearing held at the town hall last Friday night. The change was made in Section XII (4), which previously limited the appeals board's powers to permitting conversion of a present-day one-family into a two-family house. This has been extended so that such houses may also be converted into apartment houses.

Mrs. Frederick Butler has been chosen to represent the Andover League of Women Voters on the Committee of Arranging for the Fall School of Politics under the auspices of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters with the cooperation of local Leagues east of Worcester. The school will be held at Lee Auditorium, Y.M.C.A. Building, Boston, Oct. 23-24.

Another attempt to start construction in the controversial lot at Shawshoen square was initiated Monday when the owner of the lot in behalf of the leasee applied for a common victuallers' license. The leasee contemplated the erection of a one-story building with a 26-foot front on North Main Street opposite Memorial Hall. Paul Ward of Lowell Street also applied for a common victuallers' license for a restaurant to be located at 15 Essex Street, in the former shoe shop.

25 Years Ago — September 1959

Saturday, Oct. 10, at 8 p.m., the World Champion Boston Celtics basketball team will play the team they beat for the championship last year, the Minneapolis Lakers, at the Phillips Academy Gym. The game will be played for the benefit of the recently established Merrimack Valley Sports and Olympic Fund.

Two major construction jobs stand in the way of opening Route 93 from Route 128 to Haverhill st. in Methuen. One, an access to the bridge itself, probably will be finished this fall. But the second — formally known as the Wilmington-Andover-Tewksbury section — looks like almost an impossibility. First, the contractor has an August 1960 completion date; and secondly, there's no way to Classes began at Phillips Academy today to begin the 182nd academic year. John M. Kemper greeted the entire student body last evening and announced that school opened with a record enrollment of 820 students, 30 students more than last year's previous record. Included in the student body are 57 day students from Andover and surrounding areas.

School committeeman John G. Wragg, halfway through his three-year term, announced his resignation Tuesday night, effective today. Wragg cited increased travel as his cause for leaving, but took the opportunity to lash out at Superintendent of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert and, in effect, call for Seifert's resignation.

Tickets for the senior center's own Oktoberfest went on sale this week for $6 per ticket. The party is scheduled for October 27 and will include such goodies as sauerbraten, potato pancakes and Black Forest cake. Dick Delery will be there, too, and there will be other entertainment. Tickets are limited, so don't delay. It will be such a fun time.

Need to have your blood pressure checked? You can have it done free every Wednesday between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. at the center. No appointment is necessary.

Have you given any thought to a trip to the theatre? The staff at the center has several theater parties planned for you: "Mame" November 18 at Giordano's Starlite Room for dinner and theater for $17; "Gigi" November 28 at the Colonial Theater in Boston for $31; and "Jerry's Girls" December 19, also at the Colonial, for $31. Prices include excellent seats and transportation and, for "Mame" it also includes dinner. Stop by the center for further information.

Wragg's dramatic statement came at the end of Tuesday's regular meeting before a handful of hangers-on, and appeared to stun his colleagues on the board.

There is good news in these difficult economic times. The town of Andover has the largest certified free cash in its history, according to the figures provided the town this week by the state department of corporations and taxation. The account totals $1,787,391, according to the letter received by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin from Gordon A. McGill, director of accounts.

Principal Philip F. Wormwood has announced that three Andover High School students have been named semifinalists in the competition for about 3,400 merit scholarships to be awarded in 1975. The Andover semifinalists are Albert Alexander, Mark Travis and Denise White.

Poore was appointed at the July 10 meeting of the school board to represent them in discussions with the selectmen concerning school fields after discussion over the summer, and in TOWNSMAN articles, about how Andover's playing fields are used. Poore told THE TOWNSMAN she understood that she would be party to all meetings discussing "anything to do with fields," she said, adding that she was informed of only one meeting that she was told was "administrative" and not necessary to attend.

Lighting committee member John Barry told the School Committee, on Tuesday night, that he felt "in the middle" of the school-selectmen question, telling the School Committee he knew the committee would appreciate their input, but adding "you guys handle it."

The school board agreed, at the end of the lighting discussion, that Chairman Robb would write a letter to Mahony about the matter.

And later, at the end of the public meeting, School Committeeman Robert F. Smith jokingly asked Selectman Gerald Silverman if he would like to hear the tape of that evening's earlier fields' discussion, during which Silverman was not present. The tape was not played.

Andover Takes Their Second Loss

Booters Win, Lose And Tie

By She Livermore

Boys varsity soccer had to settle for a mixed bag in MVC league action last week. With their 10-1 opener over Greater Lawrence Regional fresh in their mind, the team found the competition much tougher on September 18 when they played Tewksbury, away. Down two goals, they fought back to win a satisfying 3-2 victory.

Two days later, Wilmington came to Andover, found the team napping and easily defeated them 3-1.

Saturday saw the Warrior Booters, away, facing a very tough Chelmsford lineup. Andover took the lead very early in the game but could not add any more and Chelmsford scored in the second half, so the team had to settle for a split decision.

Andover 3 - Tewksbury 2

Tewksbury was up for this game and put on the pressure from the opening whistle. Within five minutes they took a 1-0 lead and, not long after, widened the gap when they scored following a scramble in front of the net.

Shaken at their competition's scoring success, the Warriors fought back and drove the ball down to the Tewksbury end, repeatedly taking shots which went wide of the net.

The team was awarded an indirect kick and, after receiving the ball from David Keene, Barry Tucker sent it towards the Tewksbury net where it just went under the crossbar and then dropped down into the net; it was a beautiful shot.

Paul Hevehan scored the equalizer when he made a great shot, which the keeper misjudged, coming out too far; a Tewksbury fullback was actually in the net when the ball went in.

With time running out in the half, Andover almost went ahead following a scramble in front of the net which saw the keeper trying to get his hands on the loose ball and the Andover forwards their heads. The defense were finally able to clear it.

Tewksbury scored another goal in the second half, which was denied due to the offside ruling.

Ten minutes later David Doyle blasted in what proved to be the game winner, following a corner kick by Keene which sent the ball in front of the net where various Andover players attempted to beat the keeper and get their foot on it. Both Keene and Nick Bates earned assists.

The rest of the game saw Tewksbury trying to score the equalizer and Andover an insurance goal, providing much excitement for the spectators.

With time running out, Tewksbury made two excellent attempts on Andover's goal. In one instance keeper David Bartle came out and, amongst a crowd, got his foot on the ball and cleared it away. In the other, he grabbed the ball just before it went sailing in, to preserve the win for Andover.

Midfielders Chris Sapuppo and Scott Wilkins played very well, as did keeper Bartle who had to turn away 16 shots by the competition. Andover made 21 shots on goal.

Andover 1 - Wilmington 3

The Warriors played a very sluggish game throughout and Wilmington took advantage of it.

The first half was scoreless with Andover making 21 attempts to get the ball into the Wilmington net. Unfortunately, the shots were too high or too wide of the mark.

Towards the end of the half, Wilmington made back-to-back certain shots on the Andover net, but keeper Bartle blocked them both; in one instance, anticipating the ball coming in to the left, he saw it heading for the right and literally leaped, catching the ball with one hand just before it went over the line.

Wilmington took a 3-0 lead in the second half. Andover, awaking from its former lethargy, started to fight back. After intense pressure in front of the net, Andover did make a great shot which the keeper barely grasped as he fell backwards with it into the net. The disputed goal was denied.

With time running out, Andover denied an ignominious shutout when the keeper misjudged the ball and Hevehan sent it into the empty net; Wilkins earned the assist.

The Warriors will have to play much better than they did in this game if they want to improve upon their last year's finish in the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Planners used to warn against placing a sink or a stove in a corner. However, designers now feel that corners can often be successfully used. A corner can be widened or flattened by placing a base cabinet at an angle to the wall, allowing it back to become the third side of a triangle. When a stove or sink is situated in this way, the extra countertop space behind it also triangles. This space can be used to hold plants or useful or decorative ware or a small cabinet can be fitted into the angles. The space under a corner sink can be deeper than under a sink placed along a wall if a cabinet is chosen that follows the wall back to the corner.

Corners used to be a problem in kitchens. There was so much wasted space. But with today's modern cabinetry every last bit of space becomes utilitarian. You'll be able to see an excellent choice in cabinetry when you come to WINDSOR KITCHENS. We feature custom wood and laminated cabinets in European as well as traditional styles. Our staff will show you that lazy Susan cabinets are very efficient for below counter corner cabinets and appliance garages make good use of above counter space. See us at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill, Mass. Thurs. 9-5:30; Fri. 11-8; Sat. 11-2. Tel. 372-3444.

Clements Efforts Brighten A Difficult Day For Warriors

By Rick Harrison

The emergence of senior Doug Clements as a first-class pass receiver was about the only thing to cheer about last Saturday, as the Andover High football team dropped a 14-7 Merrimack Valley Conference decision to host Billerica in action at the Marshall Middle School field.

It was a game the Golden Warriors could have and probably should have won, but costly fumbles, interceptions and penalties repeatedly blunted potential scoring drives.

The loss left Andover at 0-2-0 heading into tomorrow night's battle against likewise winless Greater-Lawrence Regional at the Reggie's field (7 p.m. kickoff).

Billerica, which handed AHS one of its two losses last fall by an improbable 3-2 score, improved to 1-1-0 with the victory.

Clements, who is also a special teams' performer, caught three Tim Perry passes on the afternoon for 81 yards. He snagged a nine-yarder for the lone Golden Warriors' touchdown, hauled in a 16-yarder to help set up the only score, and cradled a 56-yarder that brought Andover to the Billerica three yard line before a fumble killed that third quarter threat.

The Indians, coached by former Boston College and Atlanta Falcons' running back Mike Esposito, did most of their damage on the ground with 214 yards rushing.

Junior Brian Cooley was the main culprit, running for 115 yards in 16 carries and notching both BMHS touchdowns on runs of three and 27 yards.

Senior Tri-Capt. Craig Burns wasn't far behind, piling up 96 yards on 15 carries.

Andover's 99-yard ground game was paced by junior QB Perry, who picked up 71 yards on 15 rushes, but the Golden Warriors were also penalized five times for 45 yards, lost two of their four fumbles, and were intercepted twice.

AHS played without several key performers, including junior wide receiver Kevin Rourke and junior lineman Larry Aiello. Rourke watched the game on crutches, and is expected to be sidelined 4-6 weeks after suffering pulled knee ligaments in the second quarter of the Lowell game. Aiello may have mononucleosis and he is out indefinitely.

The Warriors also suffered another key loss during the course of the game, senior linebacker-offensive lineman Austin Henderson going down with a knee injury.

Early Lead

Coach Dick Collins' crew came out of the gate fast on offense, much the same as they had against Lowell the previous week, and scored on their second possession.

The defense, sparked by Co-Capt. Brian McAnally's sack of BMHS sophomore QB Dave Lyons (-6 yards), stopped the host team after Craig Hammond's game-opening kickoff.

Andover was also thwarted on its initial thrust, although an 11 yard pass from Perry to Chris Madden did advance the ball to the Indians' 46 before Perry was forced to punt.

One play later the locals regained control with a fumble recovery at the Billerica 33, and despite offside and holding penalties Andover was able to punch the ball across in seven plays.

Perry carried twice for 10 yards, then fired a key 16-yard pass to Clements on a third-and-15 play. Clements cut inside and dove the final yard for the first down.

Sophomore running back Steve Redgate, who finished the contest with 21 yards in eight carries, ripped off a 10-yard run before Mark Polakow tacked on three more to the BMHS nine.

Two plays later Perry found Clements wide open in the back right corner of the endzone, a big mix-up in the Indians' secondary enabling the senior split end to break open by five yards.

Hammond drilled the conversion kick through the uprights, boosting Andover to a 7-0 lead with 28 seconds left in the first period.

Quick Strike

Billerica came right back with a six-play, 59-yard touch-down drive, Cooley giving the Indians' excellent field position after bobbling Hammond's kickoff and then improvising for a 22-yard runback.

Burns reeled off 15 yards, Cooley escaped on a 35-yard jaunt to the Andover nine, and then Cooley slanted five more yards to the Golden Warriors' four.

At this point the AHS defense stiffened, led by middle guard Polakow and end Shane Smith, stopping Billerica twice to set up a fourth-and-goal at the three.

Cooley came through with a big play, however, skirting the left side and diving just over the goalline as he was being wrapped up by Perry.

Smith kept the AHS lead intact by smashing through to block placekicker Jay Chabot's conversion attempt.

The remainder of the second quarter was spent deep in Andover territory, a pass interception by Craig Burns at the AHS 23 and a fumble recovery by Sal Napoli at the Warriors' 34 keeping the locals pinned deep.

BMHS was unable to capitalize on its prosperity, however, as Chabot tried a 27 yard fieldgoal that had plenty of distance but tailed off to the left.

Andover 1 - Chelmsford 1

Chelmsford is always a tough opponent and their play is very intense. In last year's away game, the team's center fullback was lost for the season when he sustained a broken leg due to unnecessarily rough tactics.

The Warriors took a 1-0 lead five minutes into the game when Keene (currently leading the team with points accumulated) beat the keeper and sent the ball into the net.

The scoreboard remained unchanged until early in the second half when Chelmsford scored on a breakaway.

Both teams battled to break the tie with keeper Bartle turning away 10 good shots and Chelmsford kicking away 15.

Mike Hardock, Barry Tucker and Sapuppo stood out for Andover.

Tomorrow the team will host Haverhill in Eugene Lovely Stadium at 3:15 p.m. and will travel to Lowell next Tuesday to play in Cawley Stadium at 3:15 p.m.

On Thursday, Oct. 4, the Warriors, at home, take on their biggest challenge so far this season, Billerica, pretty much the same team that won the conference title last year. Game time is 3:15 p.m.

Perry halted another Billerica bid with a pass interception at the Andover 10, and the half ended after a Lyons' bomb was tipped twice in the endzone and almost picked off by promising sophomore safety Glenn Allard.

Tough Luck

The Golden Warriors controlled the third period, mounting two sustained drives, but a fumble recovery at the three and a costly holding penalty inside the Indians' 25 kept Andover from adding to its slim 7-6 lead.

The opening march started at the AHS 20, a pair of 10-yard runs by Perry moving Collins' squad to the Billerica 41.

Passes to Madden and Clements fell incomplete, the one to Clements slipping through his hands as he made a leap while surrounded by two BMHS defenders.

On third down Clements circled from the backfield and broke free behind the Billerica secondary, taking a perfect pass from Perry in stride and churning to the Indians' three yard line before being hauled down from behind.

On the following play BMHS defensive tackle and Tri-Capt. Bernie MacInnis pounced on an Andover fumble.

A short time later Burns was forced to punt from his own endzone, giving AHS another golden opportunity from the Billerica 41. (Continued on Page 50)

Perry scrambled seven yards and a holding penalty against the Indians moved the ball down to the 19.

An attempted reverse lost four yards, and then a holding penalty against the Warriors pushed the ball back to the 33.

Perry hit junior end Dave Sullivan with a 17-yard third-down toss at the BMHS 16, but on fourth down the Billerica trio of Frank St. Peter, Hal Bickford and Matt Griffin threw Perry for a five yard loss to end the threat.

Final Touchdown

Following the key sack the Indians launched their winning touchdown drive, covering 79 yards in nine plays.

Burns clicked off runs of 27, five and six yards, while Lyons completed a seven-yard toss to Don McCormick.

A holding penalty pushed the Indians back near midfield early in the fourth period, and when Lyons was stopped for no gain on a scramble things looked good for the Warriors.

However, a facemask infraction on the tackle gave Billerica first down at the Andover 27, from where Cooley circled the right side and sprinted to the endzone untouched for the go-ahead score.

Lyons pitched a two-point conversion pass to Kevin Conway, and suddenly the Indians were sitting atop a 14-7 lead with less than eight minutes to play.

Andover failed to move beyond midfield on its next possession, despite 11 and nine yard runs by Perry, but a superb 55-yard punt by Perry rolled dead at the Indians' one yard line with less than four minutes remaining.

The Warriors were unable to keep BMHS pinned down, however, Cooley cruising 26 and 14 yards on consecutive runs to bring the ball out of danger.

The home team controlled the ball for 10 plays, moving down to the Andover 35 before a Perry safety blitz forced them to punt with less than a minute remaining.

Perry lofted a bomb that was intercepted by Ralph Laundry at the Billerica 45, and he returned the ball to the Andover 33 as time expired.

Statistics

Billerica finished with statistical advantages in first downs (10-9), yards rushing (214-99), total yards from scrimmage (233-208) and scrimmage plays (54-48).

Andover had the edge in passing yardage (109-19).

Perry hit 5-of-14 passes and punted three times for a hefty 41.3 average.

Greater-Lawrence has been blasted by its first two opponents, bowing to Wilmington (27-8) and defending Conference champ Dracut (33-0). Andover resident Pedro Gleason is one of the Reggies top all-around players.

The Warriors return home October 6 to host Wilmington.

JV Girls Win

The largest group of underclassmen ever turned out to participate on the 1984 girls junior varsity soccer team. The 29 players, anchored by 10 returning juniors, practiced since the last week of August before taking the field this past week.

Led by co-captains Kristie Mirisola and Lisa Deeran, the team opened with an exciting win over Masconomet 2-0. The opening goal was scored by Mirisola, assisted by beginning player Kelly Abercrombie. Jackie Lynch iced the win in the second half with her first goal. The defense was anchored by Dana Edelhertz and Martha Fraser.

Three days later, against Marlboro, Abercrombie broke in alone to score Andover's only goal. However, the opponents managed to drive two goals by substitute goalie, Melissa Hurley, who played very well, making numerous tough saves. Marsha Hollis and Lauren Petzold were strong in their effort.

In a highly emotional battle against Phillips, Lynch scored on a well-placed crossing pass from Shay Livingston with four minutes remaining in the game. This forced the game into overtime where, in a scramble in front of the goal, Phillips scored to win 2-1. Lisa Deeran's goalkeeping was great. Nicole Demaso and Kelly Murphy were excellent on the field.

All facets of the game came forth from the players as they totally dominated Ipswich. Eileen Murphy, Kristie Mirisola, Wendy Abramson, Shay Livingston, Kim Guild, Jackie Lynch and Kelly Ross scored on the beleaguered Ipswich goalie who made 26 saves. The defense was so strong that only two shots on goal were allowed.

Warrior Girls Win

Andover High's girls soccer team stayed undefeated (2-0) with a 5-0 whitewash at Newburyport.

Three girls split the Golden Warrior's goaltending chores; Cheryl Crawford, Heather Paro and Lisa Derran. Scorers were: Kathy Neaves (assist to Torrie Fitzpatrick); Fitzpatrick (Laurie Habeeb); Habeeb (Kelly Johnson; Habeeb (Ann Kannam); Suzanne Curley (Fitzpatrick).

Anne Abele, Devra Wiseman and Julie Kittleson played outstanding defense to key the win.

Andover 7 - Ipswich 0

Andover girls remain undefeated with their 7-0 win over Ipswich High on Thursday.

Andover Cobras Capture Lynn Tournament

By She Livermore

Several teams from Andover competed in the 1984 Lynn Soccer Tournament during the September 15-16 weekend. The Lightning, an Under 12 Boys' entry, did not survive the preliminary rounds. The Sting, an Under 14 Boys' entry, captured second place in their division in the preliminary rounds to earn them a spot in the semifinals. The Cobras, the Under 12 Girls' team who journeyed to Niagara last summer to compete in the Eastern Regional championship, won every game and captured the coveted winner's trophy in their division.

Andover Lightning 0

Lynn Chiefs 2

The first half was scoreless. Lynn went ahead early in the second following a defensive miscue and subsequently added one more to their total to win 2-0. BOW: Mike Henry, Jeff Hamilton and keeper Ryan Beal.

Andover Lightning 4

Lynn Wizz Kids 2

Lynn startled the defense in the opening moments of the game to go ahead 1-0. Mike Costello tied it up for Andover when he received a beautiful cross from wing Jamie Damon and blasted the ball into the net. Brad Cronin made it 2-1 off a pass from Phil Meckel. Lynn narrowed the lead when they scored and Mike Henry completed the scoring in the first half when he made a long shot towards the goal, which was headed in by the Lynn defense. with a 3-2 edge, Andover dominated much of the second half and added one more goal, kicked in by Cronin, two win 4-2. BOW: Don Fraser, Sanjiv Sheel and keeper Beal.

Andover Lightning 2

Billerica O'Neill 3

The Lightning lost a heartbreaker to Billerica who took the lead early in the first half. Fraser tied it up for Andover when he scored unassisted. Billerica tallied another, but Meckel responded with one for Andover when he completed a penalty shot, to make it a 2-2 tie at the half. The second half saw both teams working hard for the extra goal and the win and when Billerica succeeded, they won the hard-fought victory. BOW: Cronin, Ryan Cassily and Kevin Smith.

The close loss to Billerica eliminated the Lightning from further competition in the tournament.

Andover Sting 8 - Revere Blazers 0

Andover overwhelmed a Revere entry 8-0 in their first match. Scoring were Billy-Ernesto Martin, Steve Napolitano (2), Bobby Hughes, Mickey Schallop, Jeff Leonard, Tommy Ciolfi and Jimmy Murphy. Assisting were Hughes, Martin, Leonard and Ciolfi's brother, Tony.

Andover Sting 0 - Lynn Arsenal 1

The Sting found Lynn Arsenal much tougher competition; their defense in particular was outstanding, repeatedly denying the Sting any good opportunities to score. Andover's defense held Lynn scoreless throughout the first half and much of the second. Towards the end of the scrappy contest, Lynn was awarded an indirect kick on which they were able to score and they won 1-0. BOW: Robert Devaney, Tim Hagerty, Andy Weiner, Booth Kyle and A.J. Boucher.

Andover Sting 2

Beverly Panthers 0

The conclusion of the preliminary rounds saw the Sting facing Beverly. Martin put Andover ahead when he received a fine pass from Napolitano, beat the keeper and blasted the ball into the net. The second half belonged to Andover as they consistently outplayed Beverly and, ultimaely, Leonard scored on a pass from Doug Bleszinski to make it a 2-0 victory for Andover.

Andover Sting 0 - Beverly Panthers 1

Beverly avenged their earlier loss at the hands of the Sting by eking out a 1-0 victory in the semifinals. The Sting controlled much of the play, but could never overcome the awesome Beverly goalkeeper who time and time again turned back excellent shots y the Sting forward line. Beverly made a total of four shots on the Andover net throughout the contest and the difference in winning or losing was that one was successful.

The Sting did very well, especially as the Lynn Tournament marked the first time the team had the opportunity to play together this season; they only allowed two goals while scoring 10 themselves.

Andover Cobras 4 - Boxford S.C. 0

The Cobras held a 3-0 lead at the end of the first half with goals by Brenna Cronin, Jodi Saunders and Elizabeth Shea; Saunders and Erin Lynch assisted on the first two goals. The Boxford defense held the Cobras to only one more successful shot in the second half to give them a 4-0 victory. BOW: Michelle Vetrano and Elizabeth Hanson.

Andover Cobras 4

Georgetown Smurfettes 0

The Cobras avenged their only loss at the hand of Georgetown in the spring by winning a decisive 4-0 victory. Saunders put Andover in the lead in the first half on a pass from Lynch. She made it 2-0 early in the second half with Cronin getting the assist. Continuing their domination of the game, Lynch scored on a pass from Cronin and Cronin scored direct on a corner kick. BOW: Bridget Murphy and Suzanne Ginnelly.

Andover Cobras 7 - Lynn Charisma 0

The Cobras overwhelmed the Lynn contingent, putting their fullbacks forward and scoring a lopsided 7-0 victory. Scoring were Susan Goldstein with a hat trick on passes from Cate Doherty, Andrea Duffy and Kathy Doran; Hanson on a penalty shot (hands); Kara Slavin (2) with the assist to Megan Sheehan, Hanson and Cronin; and Doherty from Hanson. BOW: Dee Sullivan, Sheehan and Vetrano.

Andover Cobras 7 - Lynn Bells 0

The semifinal round saw the Cobras overwhelming the Lynn Bells 7-0 with goals by Ginnelly (2), Saunders, Murphy, Doherty and Lynn Baker (2). Assisting were Goldstein, Hanson, Laura Hebeison, Sullivan, Slavin and Saunders. BOW: Andrea Duffy and Nicole Ricci.

Andover Cobras 2

Georgetown Smurfettes 0

In the final game to decide the 1984 Lynn Tournament champions in the Under 12 Division, the Cobras found themselves competing once more against the Georgetown Smurfettes. Sanders put the Cobras in the lead early in the game when she accepted a pass from Megan Sheehan, dribbled it forward and beat the keeper with a fine shot. Shea increased Andover's lead when she scored on a pass from Cronin. The second half saw Georgetown make some good attempts to deny the shutout and they came very close on a corner kick, however, the defense stood firm and the Cobras became the 1984 Under 12 Division Lynn Champions.

Hockey Team Loses

The Squirt A hockey team found itself on the losing end of a 5-2 score when they went up against a strong skating Danvers club.

Despite a great effort by goalie Jay Stella who made 24 saves, the home team could not post another victory in its early season.

Danvers scored less than two minutes into the opening period. The score remained 1-0 until the six-minute mark when Justin Hesenius put a low shot into the corner of the goal to tie the game at two. Loose play by the home team enabled the opponents to score again just before the end of the period and take the lead.

The second period remained scoreless for the first eight minutes until Paul Allard picked off a clearing pass and shot the puck back towards the goal. New team member Bobby Daley deflected Allard's shot to center Steve Neal who had set up at the edge of the crease. Neal jammed the puck home for a 2-2 tie. Danver's scored 50 seconds later.

Except for an apparent goal by center Ryan Moynihan that was waived off, Andover never put enough pressure on to make the difference in the game.

Andover Junior Football

This past Sunday marked the opening day of the 25th season of the Andover Junior Football League. Beautiful summer-like weather brought out the crowds in record numbers.

The defending champion Bancroft Dolphins, under new head coach Ted Teichert, outplayed the Central Colts and came away with a 34-0 victory.

Adam Galvin opened the scoring with a 15-yard touchdown in the first quarter, but the Colts' defense held on the P.A.T. attempt. Scoring in the second quarter, when they broke the game wide open, were Rob Benedetto on a nifty 32-yard run, two touchdowns by David Tucker, the first a two-yard run following a blocked Colt punt which a picked off in midair by Chris Caltagirone who ambled 30 yards but was caught from behind two yard short of paydirt. Tuckers' second touchdown run covered 50 yards. Matt Harrison closed out the scoring on a five-yard run in the third quarter.

Also playing well for the winners were Curt Solomon on offense and Matt Cinelli on defense.

Brian Novelline, Keith Abernathy, Dan Waitkevitch and Chad Galster turned in good offense performances for Coach John O'Connor's Central Colts while Bill Batchelder and Jeff Manning were in on a lot of tackles. Peter Reming made a touchdown-saving interception. Jay Stella and Justin Lattanzio were singled out by the Colts' coaching staff for their standout play both ways.

The Indian Ridge Raiders (formerly the Vikings) won a hard-fought contest 12-0 over the West Andover Redskins.

Raider Kevin Foley scored the first of his two touchdowns following a blocked punt by Joe Iarrobino on a 12-yard scamper and followed that with a 50-yard touchdown behind a great block thrown by Peter Radulski. All of the scoring was done in the first quarter. After that it turned into a defensive standoff. Kevin Foley, Peter Radulski and quarterback Glenn Driscoll played well on offense under first-year coaches Tom Marcella and Joe Iarrobino. Defensive stalwarts were Chris Landers, Bob Lowry, Paul Mondello and Joe Iarrobino.

Quarterback Andy Peck's running and passing provided most of the offense for coach Billy DeLuca's Redskins. Peck teamed with slotback Sean Ryan for a nice 20-yard pass play in the fourth quarter, but the stingy Raider defense kept them off the scoreboard. Dave Edwards came up with a nice pass interception to stop a Raider drive. Ryan Kelley was a terror both offensively and defensively.

Some of the best action of the day was evident along the sidelines and during haltime when the colorful cheerleading squads performed with precision and vitality. The cheerleading program is once again under the direction of Bobby-Jo Morris. Coaches are Christine Recesso and Becky Penner for the Colts, Nancy Walsh for the Redskins, Amy Kiley for the Dolphins and Dawn Fater for the Raiders.

The Andover Soccer Association's 1984 In-Town Program began in earnest last weekend under sunny skies. Brief results of those games, as well as the Northern Middlesex League contests, appear below:

Andover Robins 2

Andover Orioles 2

The Robins went ahead midway through the first half when Laurie Hess penetrated the Orioles' defense and made a perfect shot over the keeper's outstretched hands. Beth Lucey tied it up for the Orioles when she beat the keeper and shot the ball into the net. Bryn McGovern made it 2-1 for the Robins in the second half when she scored on a fine pass from Lisa Berberian, but the spirited Orioles came back with another to make it a hard-fought 2-2 tie. BOW: Diane Hevehan and Carolyn Oskar (Robins).

Andover Cardinals 4

Andover Blue Jays 1

Pamela Boucher and Rosemary Torrisi kicked in a goal apiece in the first half to give the Cardinals a 2-0 lead; Debbie Freeman, Anne Comstock and Boucher assisted. The Blue Jays scored early in the second half to narrow the edge (Christina Loukatos on a pass from Suzanne Kramer), however, Torrisi's sister, MaryEllen, added to the Cardinals' total on a pass from Robin Crooks and won 4-1 when Karyn Bates blasted in a perfect shot unassisted. BOW: Cara Workman, Teresa Babine and Martine Kelley (Cardinals) and Stephanie Melillo, Vicki Arthur and keeper Meg McConville (Blue Jays).

Andover Attackers 3 - Medford S.C. 1

Medford shocked the defense when they scored in the opening minutes of play. Jon Pedicino tied it up for Andover when he made a fine shot on net on a pass from Matt Young. In the second half Pedicino and Young combined again to go ahead and Young made it a 3-1 victory for Andover when he scored unassisted. BOW: Matt McKinnon, Tom Herling and Greg Kinsky.

Andover Raiders 2 - Medford S.C. 2

Andover Raiders 1 - Beverly S.C. 1

Medford went ahead near the end of the first half and upped their lead early in the second half. With time running out, the spirited Raiders pressed their attack, peppering the Medford goal with good shots over and over again. Their efforts were finally rewarded when A.J. Boutin scored, with the assist going to Chris Eggert and Scott Clementi, and ultimately, they made it a tie contest when Eggert scored on a pass from Boutin. BOW: George Willard, George Bilger and Dave Miles.

Eggert put the Raiders in the lead when he blasted the ball into the net on a fine pass from Clementi early in the first half. The second half saw Andover pressing their advantage and making many shots on net, all of which went wide. Towards the end of the contest Beverly denied the shutout when they scored following a corner kick and the game ended in a hard-fought 1-1 tie. BOW: Goalkeeper Jamie Spinelli, Todd Musteraid and Mike DeMartino.

Andover Cyclones 4 - Burlington S.C. 1

Andover Cyclones 1 - Wakefield S.C. 1

In a make-up game with Burlington, the Cyclones went ahead 2-0 in the first half with tallies by Leigh Ann Catanzaro and Ann Murnane (Lisa Allen assisted Catanzaro). Maura Everett, who defended the net with class in the first half, made it 3-0 on a pass from Allen early in the second half and Karyn Ragonese completed the Cyclones' scoring when she kicked in the ball unassisted. Burlington denied the shutout with a single tally. BOW: Susan Abramson, Jessica Wrobel, Lori Philbin and second-half keeper Darlene Prochniak.

The first half was scoreless. Midway through the second, Ragonese put the Cyclones on the scoreboard when she beat the keeper and blasted the ball into the net unassisted. Wakefield pressed, looking for the equalizer, and Everett made some great saves; the competition was not to be denied, however, and they were able to kick in a single to make it a hard-fought tie. BOW: Everett, Allen and Danyelle Constantineau.

Andover Cobras 7

Burlington Demons 0

Andover Cobras 0

Andover Strikers 2

The Cobras did not encounter much competition when they played the Burlington Demons in a mid-week make-up game. They controlled the play throughout and scored three goals in the first half, adding more in the second, to win a decisive 7-0 victory. Scoring were Elizabeth Shea (2) with assists from Brenna Cronin and Jodi Saunders; Saunders (2) with assists from Shea and Erin Lynch; Laura Hebeison and Dee Dee Sullivan with the assists going to Susan Goldstein and Wendy Germain; and Michelle Vetrano who scored on a rebound. BOW: Erica Goetze, Suzanne Gianelly and Vetrano.

Competing against an older Andover team (U-14), the Cobras encountered tougher competition. The Strikers went ahead 1-0 in the first half when Heather Pomeroy found the range. Late in the contest, with the Cobras pressing for the equalizer, Pomeroy broke away, took the ball downfield and kicked in another goal to win 2-0 for the Strikers. BOW: Shea, Sullivan and Vetrano (Cobras) and Michelle Meli and goalkeepers Susan Bousch and Lee Dziadosz (Strikers).

Andover Lightning 1

North Andover S.C. 4

Andover controlled much of the first half of play and went ahead 1-0 when Jamie Damon scored on a pass from Jeff Hamilton. North Andover tied it up when they scored following a defensive miscue. In the second half North Andover's forward line pressed the attack repeatedly, going ahead 2-1 on a direct kick and blasting in two more goals for a 4-1 victory. BOW: Donald Fraser, Ryan Cassily and Duncan Harris.

Race Aids Handicapped

Coach Charlie Ryan of the defending Eastern Mass. Division I Lowell High School's boys' varsity basketball team has started work on something near and dear to his heart, a fundraising Run, Walk and Bike-A-Thon to benefit the Professional Center for Handicapped Children in Andover.

Ryan's youngest son, four-year-old Kevin, is afflicted with cerebral palsy and is one of 100 children currently serviced by the center.

However, 30 additional youngsters are currently on the waiting list and state financial aid has been trimmed to the point where all those in need are unable to take advantage of the center's unique services.

The Run, Walk and Bike-A-Thon will provide money for the handicapped children (ages 1-7 years) for services and equipment. The event will take place Sunday, Oct. 21, at 1 p.m.

The six-mile course will begin and end at the Christian Formation Center, River Road, near the West Andover-Tewksbury line and will follow River Road and wind through Forest Hill Drive, Cross Street, High Plain Road, Haggetts Pond Road, Bailey Road and Fiske Road in Andover.

Aid stations will be available at several points throughout the race. The motto for this event is "Run and Ride for Those Who Can't."

The basic entry fee is $5 and all participants are encouraged to obtain a sponsor sheet.

Free t-shirts will be presented to all competitors whose entry fee and sponsor sheet totals $10 or more.

Ryan also hopes to attract several celebrities, including a possible world class runner or two and a few professional athletes.

Checks and donations should be made payable to The Professional Center for Handicapped Children and may be mailed to 33 Central St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Further information may be obtained by calling Ryan.

Small Business Program Revived

A law that requires state officials to award at least 5 percent of state contracts to small businesses is finally being enforced after being largely ignored for eight years, according to State Representative Sue Tucker of Andover.

The state's Small Business Assistance Division, under new management, has spent the past several months gearing up to properly administer the provisions of the law, which has been on the books since 1976, Tucker said.

Though still somewhat under-staffed, the agency has begun accepting applications from small businesses interested in bidding on the 5 percent of state contracts set aside exclusively for small businesses.

Small businesses also can bid on the remaining 95 percent of state contracts though for this portion of contracts they will be competing with firms of all sizes, not just small businesses, Tucker explained.

Tucker urged eligible small-business owners in Andover and Lawrence to apply to compete for state contracts.

"Small businesses play an important role in the economic vitality of the Andover-Lawrence area," Tucker said. "State government has a responsibility to enhance that vitality through such programs as the 5 percent contract set-aside. I hope local small-business owners will seriously consider participating in this program."

To be eligible, a small business must be certified by the state laws meeting certain criteria, including requirements that the business be independently owned and operated, have its principal place of business in Massachusetts, employ less than 50 people and have had less than $6 million in total gross sales for the preceding three years.

State contracts are awarded competitively and apply to both goods and services purchased by state agencies and institutions.

Business interested in applying for certification can contact Tucker's office for the necessary application form and related information.

Small-business owners in Andover and Lawrence can learn about state contract opportunities in the weekly publication, "Goods and Services Bulletin." The bulletin lists state commodity contracts over $500 and service contracts of $40,000 or more.

Data processing, printing and the provision of social and rehabilitative services for state human-service agencies are among the consultant services advertised in the bulletin.

Subscriptions to the publication are available through the Massachusetts Regulations Division of the Office of Secretary of State. Andover's Memorial Hall Library also carries the bulletins for examination in the reference department.

Planners Approve Manufacturing Use

By unanimous vote of the Planning Board, a new industrial office building on Frontage Road may be leased for "light high-tech assembly," a use that would not have been permitted without the planners' approval.

Earlier this month the board voted unanimously to release a nine-year-old covenant on the property that prohibited any manufacturing on the site, which is being developed by Frontage Road Associates.

The 4.5-acre parcel, zoned Industrial D, is located next to the Route 93 interchange, near the Knights of Columbus site and across the street from Digital Equipment Corp.'s large industrial lot.

Paul Bruk, Sr. of Frontage Road Associates last week said he plans to lease one floor of the 64,000-square foot, two-story building to Vicor Corp., a high-tech research and development firm. Bruk said he is still seeking a second tenant for the building, which is now under construction.

Andover Atty. Richard Asoian, representing the developers, told the planners that the site was rezoned from Single Residence C to Industrial D ten years ago. In 1975, he said, the planning board imposed a covenant on the parcel that prohibited any manufacturing on the site; that restriction was intended to protect residentially-zoned land across the street.

But that once-residential land now belongs to Digital, Asoian said, and the reason for the covenant no longer exists. He explained that the covenant could be released by a majority vote of the planning board, with the property-owner's agreement.

The attorney said the covenant was "holding up everything" at the development, where construction is nearly complete, because Frontage Road Associates had found a major tenant — Vicor Corp. — with plans for "light high-tech assembly."

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony added that the restriction was complicating Frontage Road Associate's application for $4.1 million in industrial revenue bond financing from the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority (MIFA).

The Andover Industrial Finance Authority has already approved Bruk's application.

The manager said the "high-quality" office building could never be used for "heavy manufacturing" because it is not constructed for that kind of use. (He also noted that the Board of Health would prohibit any discharge from the light assembly process into the site's septic system.)

In any case, planning board Chairman Margaret Bradshaw said that, according to Special Counsel Thomas Arnold, the 1975 covenant was "not enforceable" and was not binding on the developer.

Dargoonian Farm Plans, Hawk Ridge Reviewed

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A 25-lot cluster subdivision on what is now a West Andover farm, and newly-revised plans for an eight-lot subdivision the planners recently vetoed both came up for Planning Board review Tuesday night.

The planners did not vote on either proposal — Royal Gardens and Hawk Ridge, respectively — which are both in the preliminary planning stage. The board will review each subdivision again during future meetings.

Royal Gardens (formerly known as Strawberry Fields and Waterford Place) is a 25-lot cluster subdivision proposed for a 36-acre site on what is now Dargoonian Brothers farm off Blanchard Street in West Andover, near the Tewksbury town line.

According to engineer Stephen Stapinski of Merrimack Engineering, D & L Development Corp. of Methuen has the site under a purchase and sale agreement.

Plans call for three roadways ending in cul-de-sacs: one off Osgood Street (to be called Towle Place) with seven lots, one off Blanchard Street (Lenox Circle) with 13 lots, and another off Blanchard (Royal Garden Place) with five lots. Three additional lots will have frontage on Blanchard Street.

Stapinski said the development would include 18 acres of open space. The existing Dargoonian residence on Blanchard Street, including a house, barn and pool, will remain, and will eventually be subdivided from the new development, he added.

Royal Gardens will be served by town water and underground septic systems, the engineer said. Drainage from the new development will run into existing waterways and irrigation ponds on the site, and the ponds will become retention areas, Stapinski told the board.

(The Dargoonians plan to continue growing fruits and vegetables, and will retain the right to use water from those ponds, he noted.)

Because the site is largely without trees, the developer plans to make "landscape improvements," the engineer said, "to create a desirable living area." A "green belt" will be designed as a buffer between the new houses and neighboring residents, and that green area (as well as the ponds) will be maintained by a homeowners' association, he said.

An attorney representing one abutter, the Nabydowski family of 76 Blanchard St., described three major concerns to the planners.

Atty. Brenda Maille said that the Nabydowskis run a family farm and a piggery on their property — and want to make sure an adequate buffer zone is planned to insure good relations with their future neighbors in Royal Gardens.

Maille said the family also has "serious water problems" on their land, and that the Dargoonian ponds contribute to that problem. She asked for an engineering study to look into the drainage situation.

And finally, the attorney asked the board to protect Andover's farms by making sure new developments do not encroach upon existing farms: "Preserving farmland is important," she said.

The planners have an Oct. 22 deadline for voting on the Royal Gardens preliminary plan.

Stapinski also presented revised preliminary plans for Hawk Ridge, an eight-lot subdivision proposed for a 14.5-acre site off Rattlesnake Hill Road by developer Coolidge Construction Co.

Earlier this month, the planners voted to disapprove the engineer's original preliminary plan, explaining that some of the lots were awkwardly shaped — and appeared to include more than the 10 percent wetlands allowed by the zoning bylaws.

The engineer didn't have much better luck this week. Although they did not vote on the new plans, the board indicated that they would turn them down, unless some changes were made.

Stapinski said he had re-aligned the site's lot lines to "accommodate" wetlands areas and give the lots more "regular" shapes. He had also reduced the amount of excavation needed at the site — another planning board concern — from 8,500 to 4,000 cubic yards of earth material or less, he said.

But staff planner Nancy Jeton said lot eight — where two dry areas would be separated by wetlands — still did not meet the zoning requirement that 90 percent of each lot include dry land. The planner added that she doubted the lot could win Conservation Commission or Board of Health approval.

The planners indicated that they were still not satisfied with other lots, as well. "I don't like lots eight, three, six, or the roadway," Michael Houghton said. He added that he believed the developer was "just trying to get too many lots" on the site: "Five or six lots would be much more attractive than this."

A number of neighbors from the Rattlesnake Hill and Glenwood Road area again voiced their concerns about drainage plans for Hawk Ridge, as they have at past meetings. However, the developer will not be required to submit detailed drainage calculations until the definitive stage, Jeton pointed out.

Summarizing the board's concerns, Chairman Margaret Bradshaw said lot eight did not appear to be "buildable"; lot six needs to be redesigned and lot three needs work as well; the roadway should be relocated; and the subdivision should include no more than seven lots.

The developer may withdraw the new preliminary plan, redesign it — or let the planners vote it down, Bradshaw said. The board has a Nov. 15 deadline for voting on Hawk Ridge.

State SAT Scores Climb

Massachusetts 1984 college-bound seniors have boosted their Scholastic Aptitude Tests (SATs) scores to the highest levels since 1977, according to the college board's results released recently by Massachusetts Commissioner of Education John H. Lawson. The seniors scored 429 in verbal and 467 in mathematics while their 1977 counterparts received 429 and 465 respectively. SAT scores began to rise in 1982 after a decade of decline.

Lawson attributes the steadily increasing scores not only to tougher standards and higher expectations for both students and teachers but also to a changed climate of opinion which has realized the importance of public education. He points to $350 million in new state aid for education and the educational reform bill now before the legislature as examples of a more positive attitude towards education in the Commonwealth. "I am optimistic about the future of public education in Massachusetts. We are climbing out of the black hole of Proposition 2½ and now are ready to reach for the stars," he said.

Other sections of the College Board survey show that business and commerce was the most popular area of college study for the seventh year in a row. The dramatic growth of computer science as a major declined for the first time since 1975. Engineering also declined slightly as a major.

Guide Will Aid New Students

New Andover residents with children in the public school system and all first graders in the town's schools will receive a guide to elementary education in Andover, published by the school department.

The 28-page booklet, which sports a calligraphy-designed cover and illustrations by Frances McCormick was edited and designed by Selma Flieder.

Included in the guide is an overview of the town's elementary schools, the ad-resses of the five schools discussed in the booklet and telephone numbers for parents who have questions about the schools.

School Committee members saw the document at the Tuesday, Sept. 25, meeting, when Chairman Donald W. Robb suggested that local real estate agents be given copies of the manual. But Lois Haslam, assistant superintendent for elementary education, said that it would be too expensive to give out the guides to all realtors in town, although it had been considered, she said. Haslam added that she also wanted each family in town with children in the public schools to receive the booklet but had been prohibited from doing so because of the costs.

School Committeewoman Susan T. Poore suggested selling the guides at what it costs to make them to area real estate businesses, a matter which Business Manager Francis L. Paul said he would investigate.

Using those figures, the assessors found that at a $17.80 rate, the average homeowners would pay $2,011.40 in taxes; the average business would pay $8,900. Shifting the burden as much as state law would allow would mean a $13.96 residential rate, or taxes of $1,577.48 for the average homeowner; and a rate of $26.70, or $12,350 in taxes, for the average business.

Moving down to Gammon's proposal of a more modest 20 percent shift: the average homeowner would pay $1,924.39 in taxes, and the average business, $9,790.

Robert Westcott, representing the Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber is opposed to classification.

Westcott said the present system of a single tax rate for all property-owners is "not unfair," while a higher rate for business would be unfair to small businesses and would have a "net negative effect on the town."

of the state's priority list for funding — but "kept moving up" because cities and towns with higher-priority projects didn't have their share of the matching funds or finished plans ready to show state officials.

Back in February, the DPW director called a new pumping station "the most dire need of this community." At that time an equipment failure at the existing pumping station, which is more than 60 years old, led to a sewage back-up into the basements of Shawsheen Village homes and businesses. DPW crews were forced to pump waste directly into the Shawsheen River.

At town meeting two months later, the town manager told voters that after years of waiting for state and federal money to fund the project, Andover could no longer afford to wait.

However, Mahony emphasized that Andover would continue to seek government funding. This week, he said he had delayed beginning the project in hopes of winning a state grant, and was "quite pleased" that state money is forthcoming.

When town meeting appropriated money to design the new Riverina Road station in 1981, town officials were hoping to secure substantial funding from the federal Environmental Protection Agency, as well as state money. However, such EPA grants have been hard to come by under the Reagan administration.

The first wealth is health.

The school board approved transfers from: Nancy Arndt, from clerical aide at Doherty Junior High to secretary to Doherty Junior High principal, $11,387; Harrison Davis, from junior custodian at West Elementary School to senior custodian at West Elementary School, salary not available; Mary French, from program head for learning disabilities to action pupil personnel administrator.

Those paid by the hour receive $5.29 per hour.

Vacancies in the public school system, now filled by substitutes, include a special needs instructor-aide and West Elementary, instructional aide at Sanborn Elementary, senior custodian and art teacher at Bancroft Elementary and a clerical aide at Doherty Junior High. Positions to be permanently filled at Andover High School are: half-time Spanish teacher, half and full-time business educators, .4 time German, .6 time learning disability teacher-tutor, special needs instructor aide in the pre-vocational class and a hall monitor.

The school system is still without an assistant superintendent for secondary education. Interviews with finalists for the position are scheduled by the School Committee on Thursday, Oct. 11.

WHERE TO GET THE MONEY

Are you concerned about having enough money to make the downpayment on a home purchase? There are several options to use in finding out where to get the money. Many first-time-buyers who lack sufficient funds for the downpayment take the "second mortgage" option. In addition to arranging for a first mortgage loan, they take out a short-term second mortgage to come up with the downpayment money.

Suppose you need an additional $6,000 to make the downpayment. you may be able to get the money in a second mortgage arrangement, payable in two to four years. The interest charged for a second mortgage may be higher, but probably no more than you would pay for a loan on a car or furniture. With your income expected to increase, the extra financing may not be burdensome and will be paid off in a relatively short period.

Whatever your financial situation, discuss the details with your Realtor. A Realtor can suggest several options for attaining cash for the down-payment including seller-financing.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 5 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER YOU BY

Soon after you move out of your house, you may find it quite changed, repainted and refurbished to the new owners' taste, it becomes THEIR house. Little trace may remain of your occupancy.

Yet there's one good-neighbor gesture the new owner is sure to appreciate: the gift of INFORMATION.

Leave a telephone list of good sources in the neighborhood: pharmacies, neighbors, baby sitters, gardeners, handymen.

If you're leaving appliances for the new owners, provide the instruction books and warranties. Leave a maintenance schedule for the water heater, air conditioner, and furnace, plus copies of any service contracts.

Paint samples for walls and woodwork are sure to be appreciated, to touch up any scrapes or nicks that come with moving in.

Are you a gardener? Leave notes on plantings, so the new owners will know weeds from wildflowers. Indicate where and when perennials will come up. You'll be remembered kindly.

You'll remember US kindly, too, for our expert help in selling your house. You can depend on the professionals when you list at —

Standards Set For Schoolwork, Behavior

Andover's public school students can't say they didn't know what to expect for school assignments this year because for the first time all students, and their parents, received a syllabus of sorts outlining a year's worth of school work and behavioral expectations for each class the student is taking.

The lists of "standards" was sent home over a two-week period, ending this week. The course outlines were created in an attempt to insure consistency within the eight-school system, explained Lois Haslam, assistant superintendent for elementary education. She said Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert should be given credit for the creation of the document, which Haslam likened to a "social contract."

"This a clear way for parents, children and teachers to understand what will be happening over the course of the year so they understand what is expected of them right from the beginning," said Haslam. "It's a clear attempt at trying to be specific and communicate expectations."

West Elementary School parent Diana Gould, who is president of that school's Parent Teacher Organization, said the PTO had not discussed the form but added that she liked it.

"As a parent with a child in second grade I think it is fine," she said. "I'm pleased to get an outline. It makes me realize that some of the responsibility is mine. I should be supportive at home."

"They are being very well received," said Haslam, adding that she met with members of the Parent Advisory Council a week ago and members there said they liked the syllabus.

In the works for two years, the standards form grew out of a school system priority, one that is often mentioned by School Committee members, that there is a need to insure a consistency of education in the town's public schools. Haslam said the actual standards form was created last year by teachers, administrators and instructional specialists.

Included on the forms that school children brought home is a list of topics to be covered (in each particular subject), expectations of classroom behavior, classroom policies, grading policy, late work and make-up work rules, a homework policy, remedial plans for those who need extra-help and hints for course enrichment. There is also a section where students may list areas in which they need extra help and topics they find most interesting. Each form must be signed by the teacher, student and parent or guardian and returned to school where they will be kept for the year.

It's A Fact!

Tree farmers in Washington State consider foam cups great containers for tree seedlings. The insulating properties of the cups protect the plant roots from sudden changes in temperature. The cups also maintain the necessary moisture while allowing the plant to breathe. A nurseryman says foam cups are easy to fill with soil-fertilizer mix and easy to stack and store.
